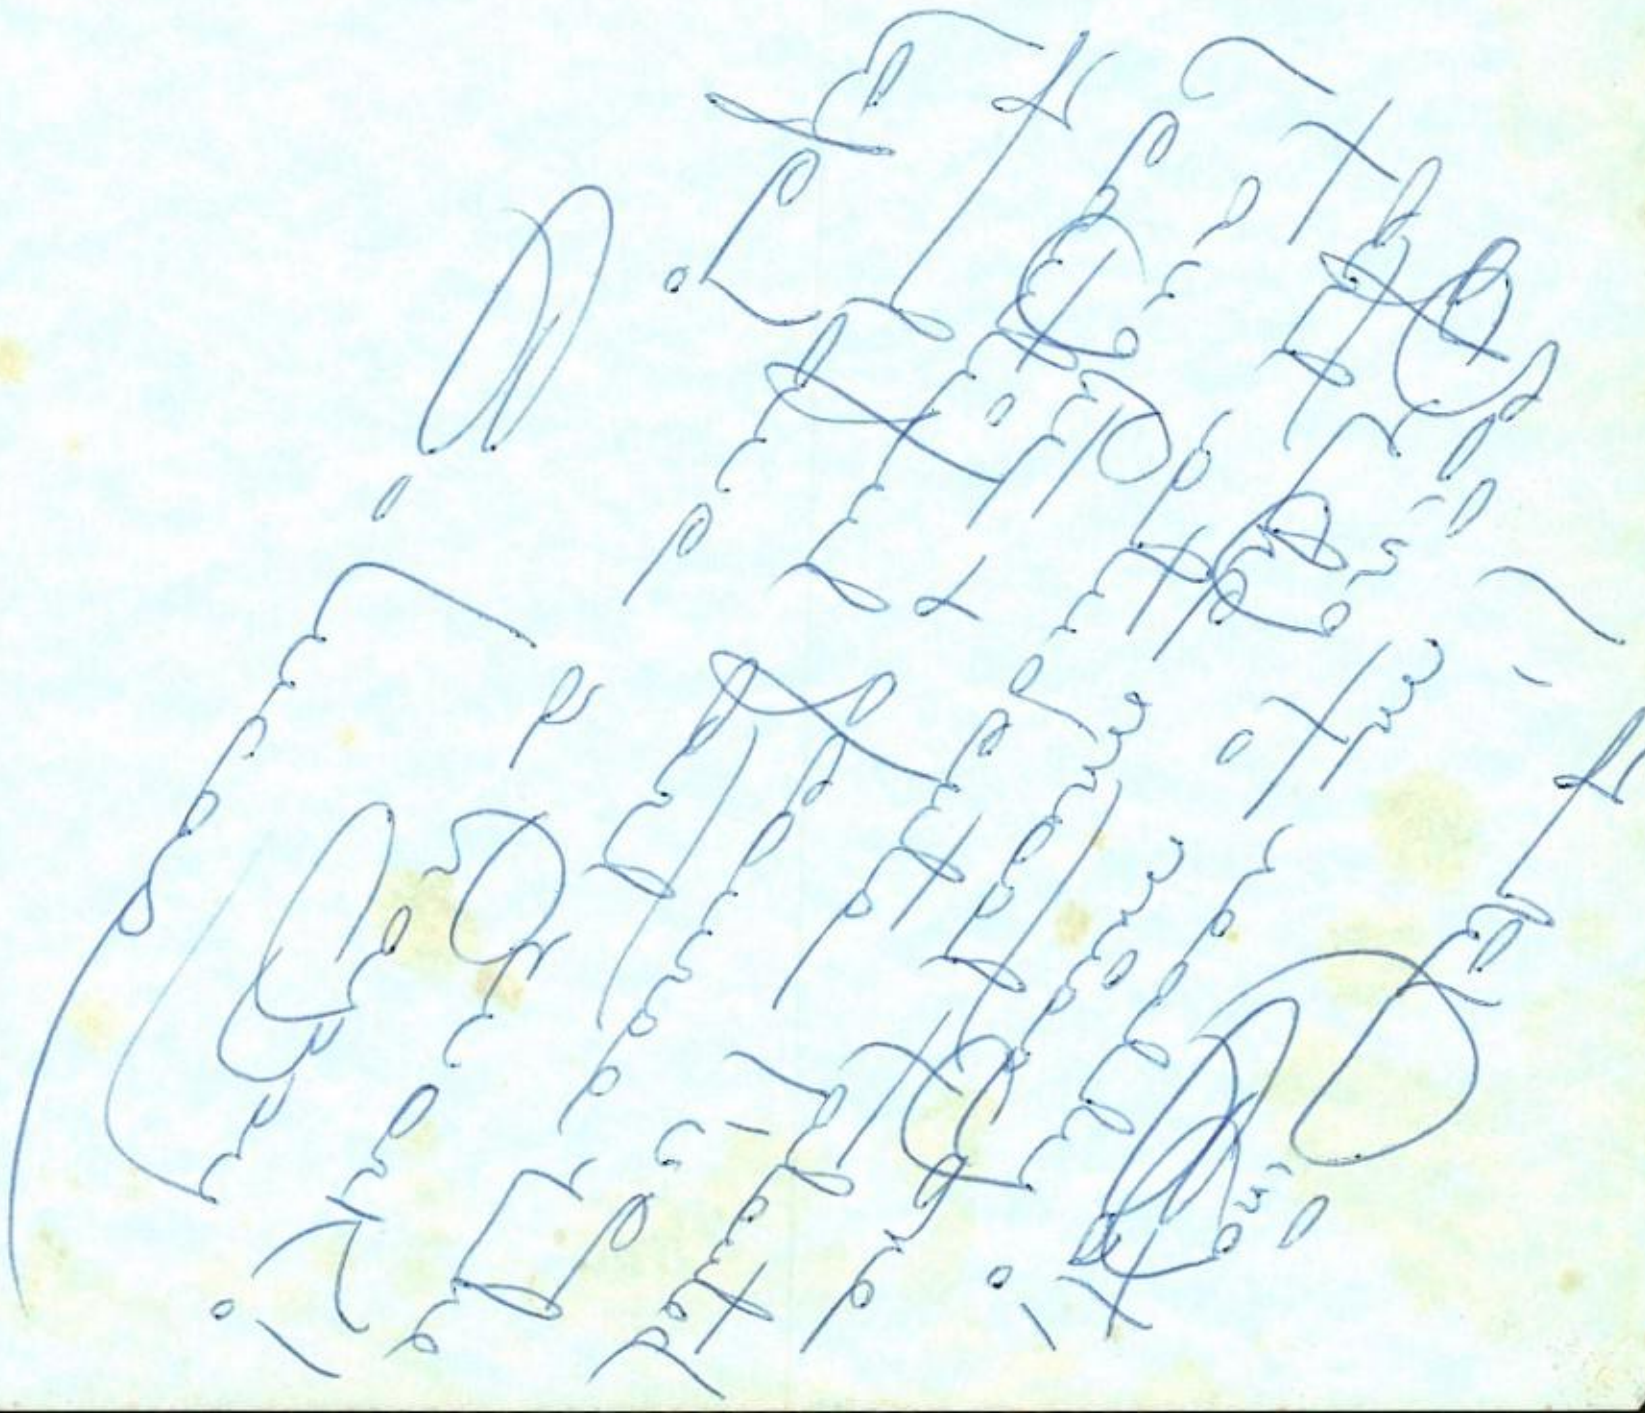
THE WARRIOR '78

Robert,
I hope that you will do some really great things while you are at college. It is really different with seniors around here. Being such a nice person, you will succeed in anything you decide to do.
Good Luck,
Jackie



THE WARRIOR

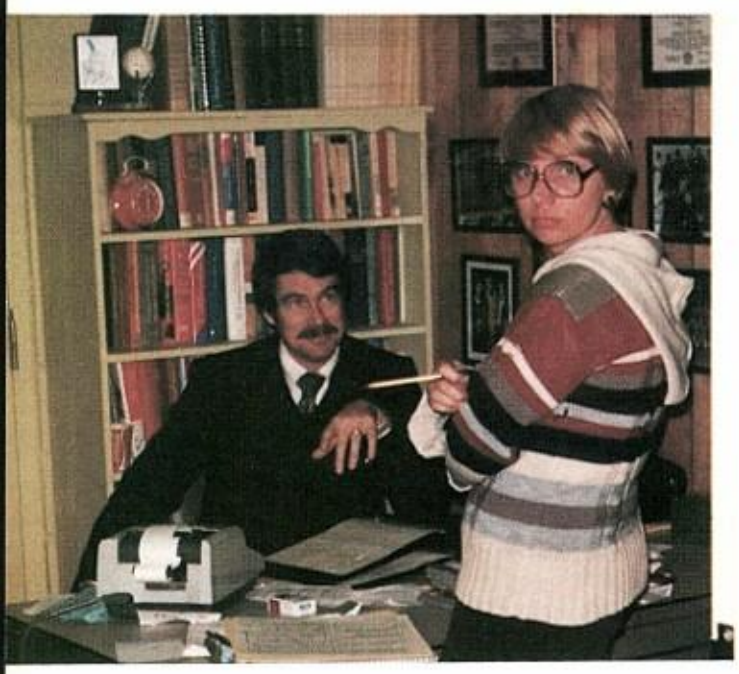
Brookwood School

Thomasville, Georgia

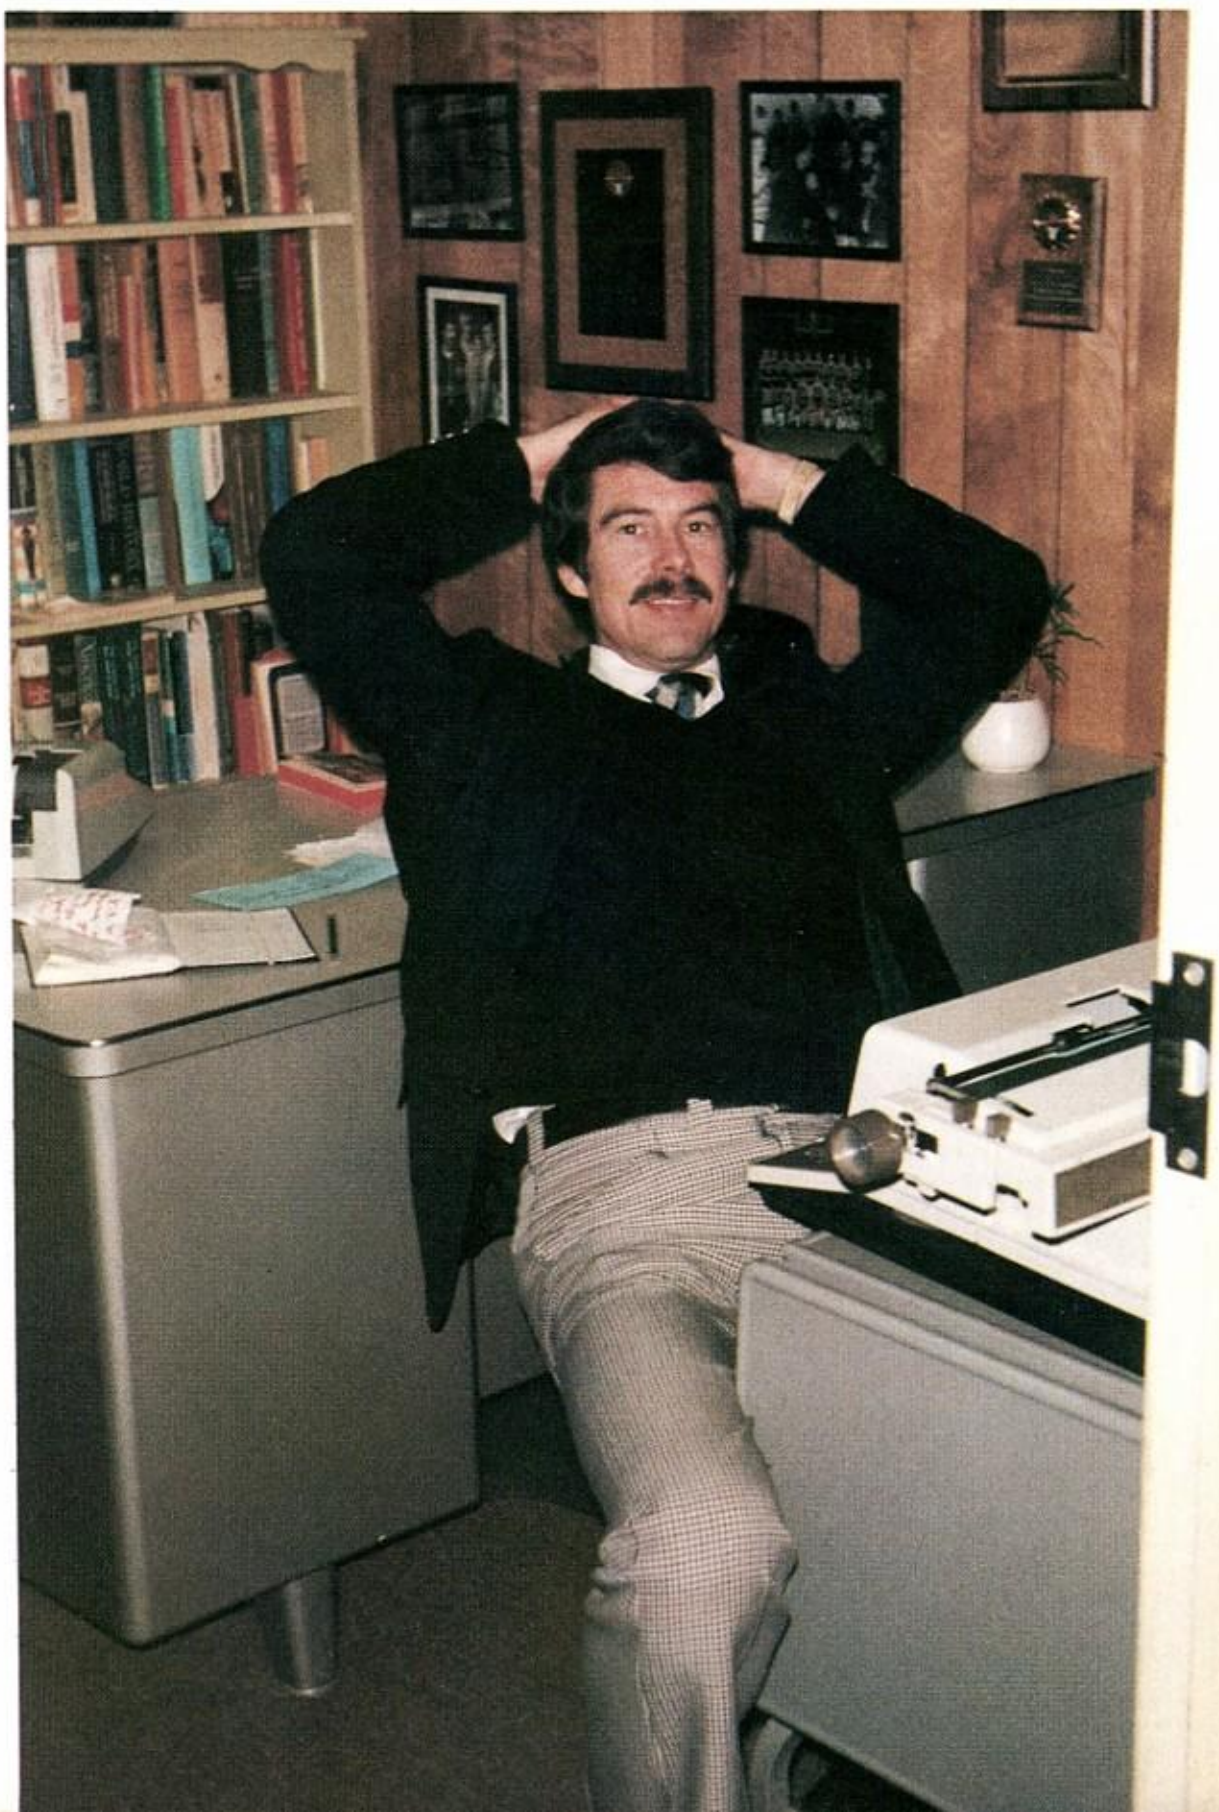
Volume VIII

1977-1978

Dedication



Each year the Senior class has the privilege of dedicating the annual. The Class of '78 has chosen someone who has meant a great deal to our class as well as to Brookwood School. As a teacher, he has stimulated our minds and our sense of humor. He has been an enthusiastic administrator and a successful coach. None of his teams has ever posted a losing season, and he has led his Warriors to state championships in basketball and football. During our years at Brookwood we have come to respect his opinions and to recognize his qualities of leadership and dedication with deep gratitude and admiration, the Senior Class of 1978 dedicates the '77-'78 "Warrior" to Thomas F. Johnson.



Trying to recreate a memory is never an easy task. It is difficult to accurately portray all the emotions and events that make up a school year. We look at both sides of an experience but single out only one side for our memories. The '77-'78 Warrior Staff would like to show the diverse things that shape our lives here at Brookwood. We proudly present . . .

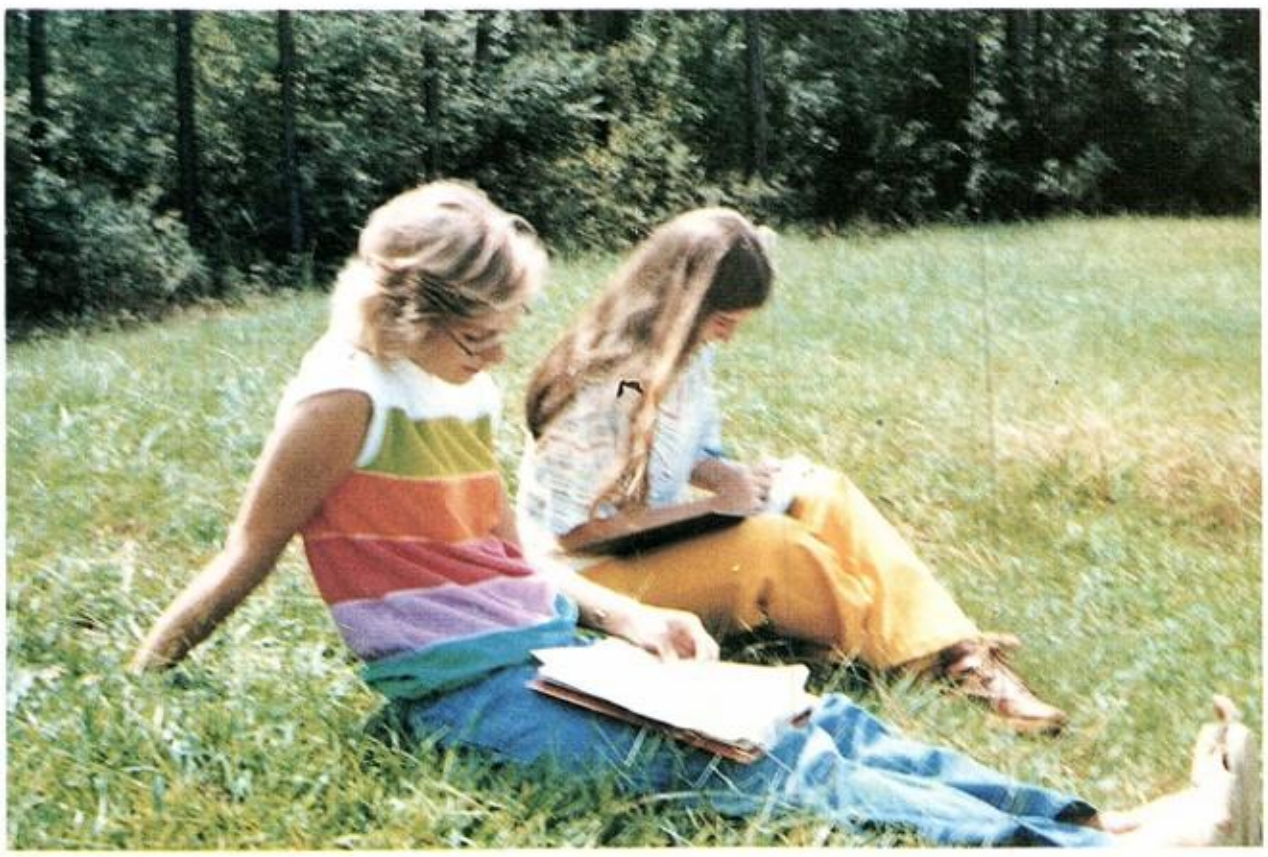
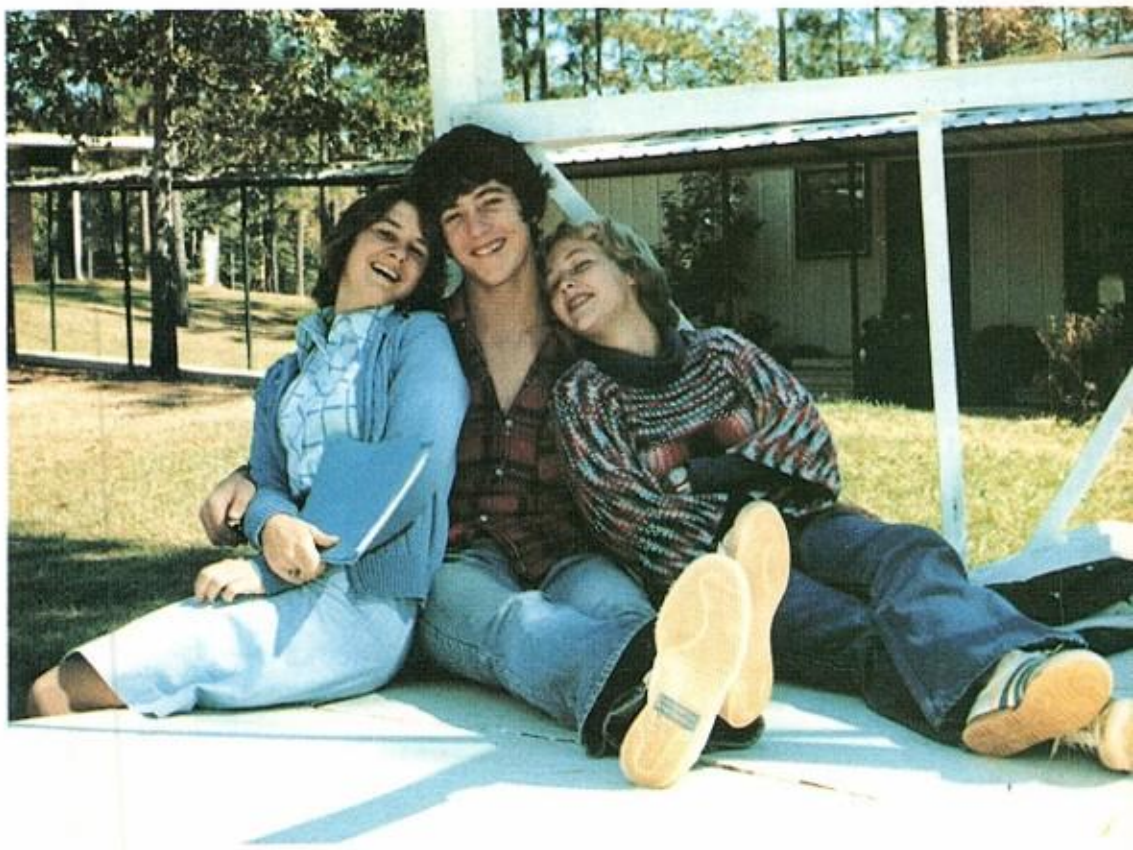
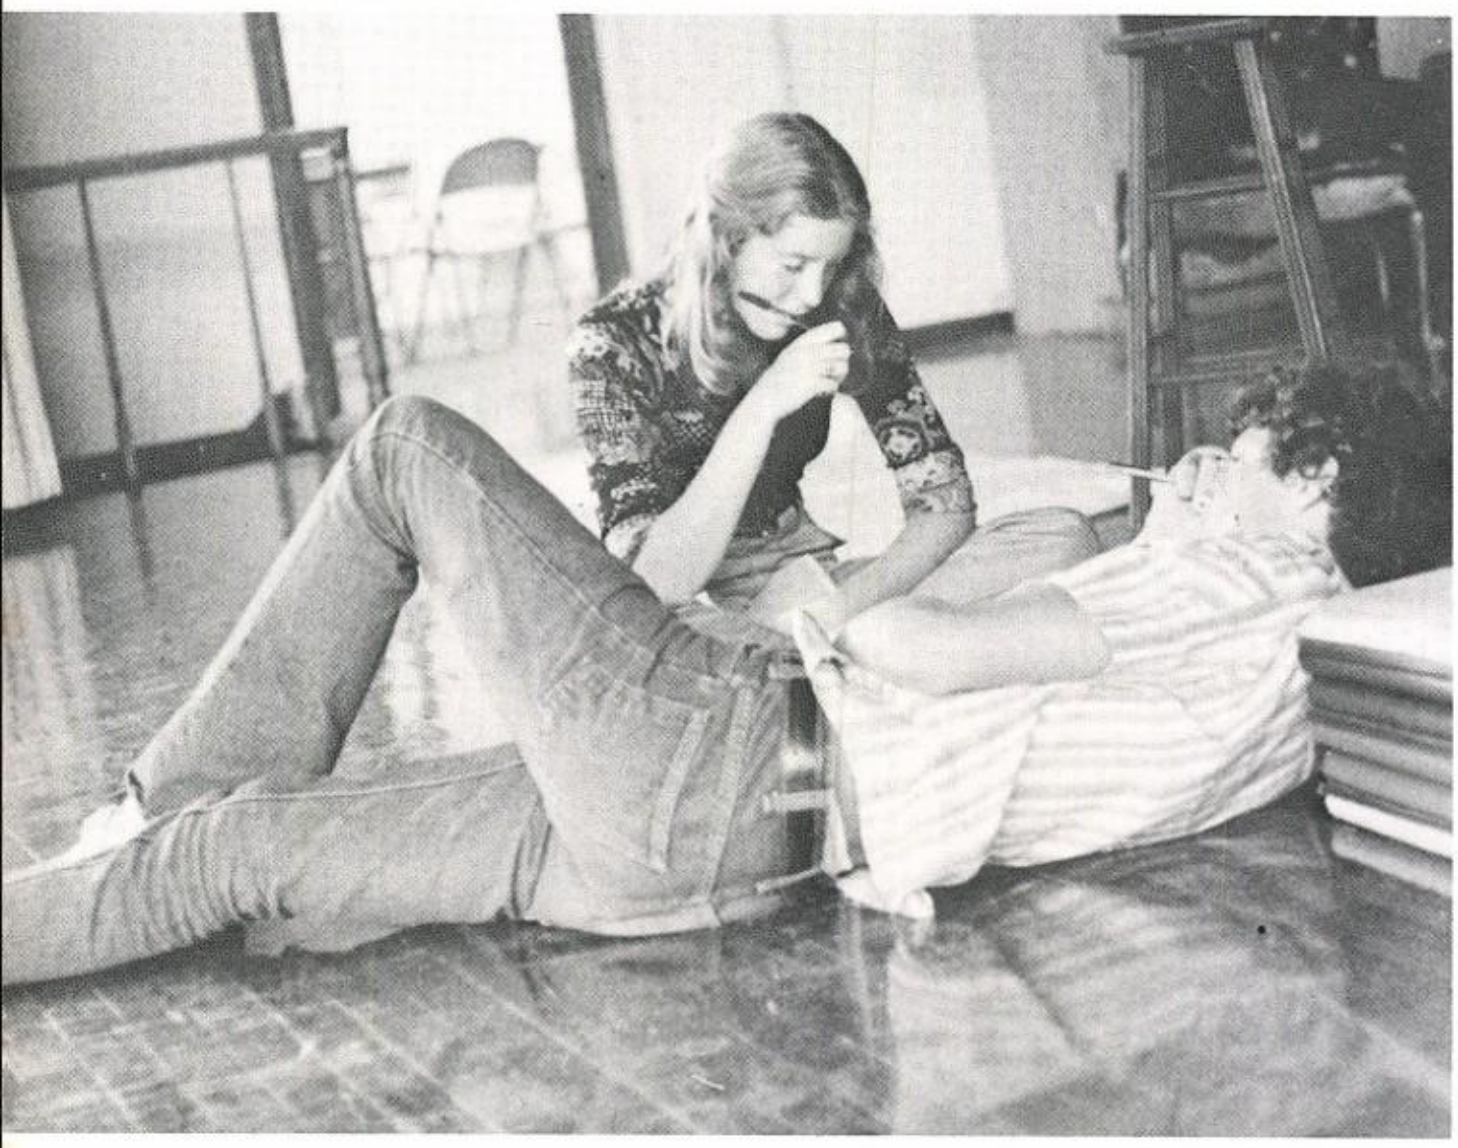
School is many things besides studying all the time. During these years we have our first romances and make our best friends, and we begin to discover ourselves.

WITH YOU





"... the days in the old schoolyard"



Brookwood students find that the world outside offers many opportunities for learning. Whether fighting a bull in Madrid, wandering through the museums in Florence, or getting lost on London's "Underground," they all agreed that their summer as a Foreign Study League student was a great experience.

The 1977 football season got off to a slow start as the relatively inexperienced Warriors tied their first game and lost the next three. But in the great Warrior tradition, the players rallied with the leadership of the seniors to win four out of the last five games, coming within a hair's breadth of winning another region championship.

For the cheerleaders, the "season" began early in the summer with a NC camp. Our ribbon-winning squad returned with honors and presti Although the football cheerleaders worked especially hard all season, th agreed unanimously that supporting the team was worth the effort. W contagious enthusiasm, these eight girls helped the student body develop unbeatable team spirit.

Another Season

Seniors Dance Last Number

Clockwise: Ann Shackelford, Alice Hershey, Cayla Miller, Claire Chason

With sparkling new uniforms and one year's experience behind them, the Panadiers were better than ever in 1977. They participated in a summer camp at West Florida College where they learned new routines and exchanged ideas with other drill teams. Under the direction of Nancy Jones and Ann McKinnon, they put on another spectacular homecoming show and delighted audiences on both sides at all home games.

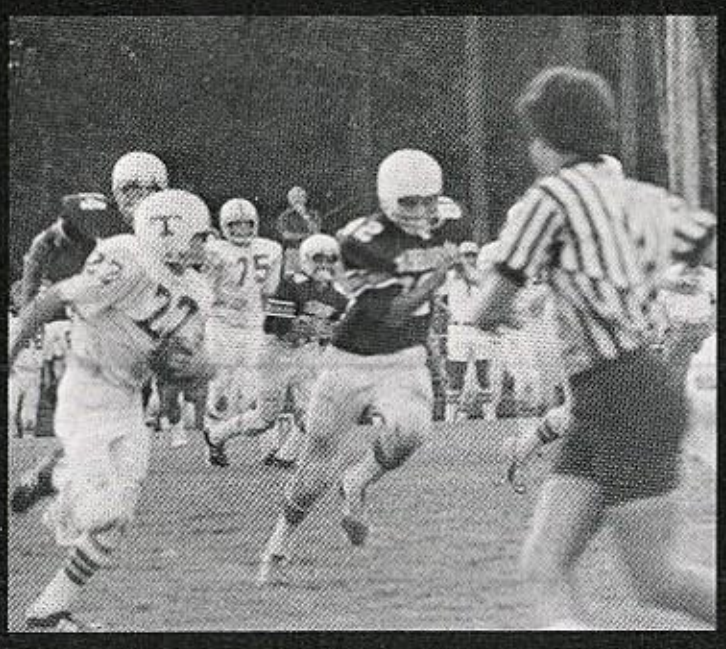
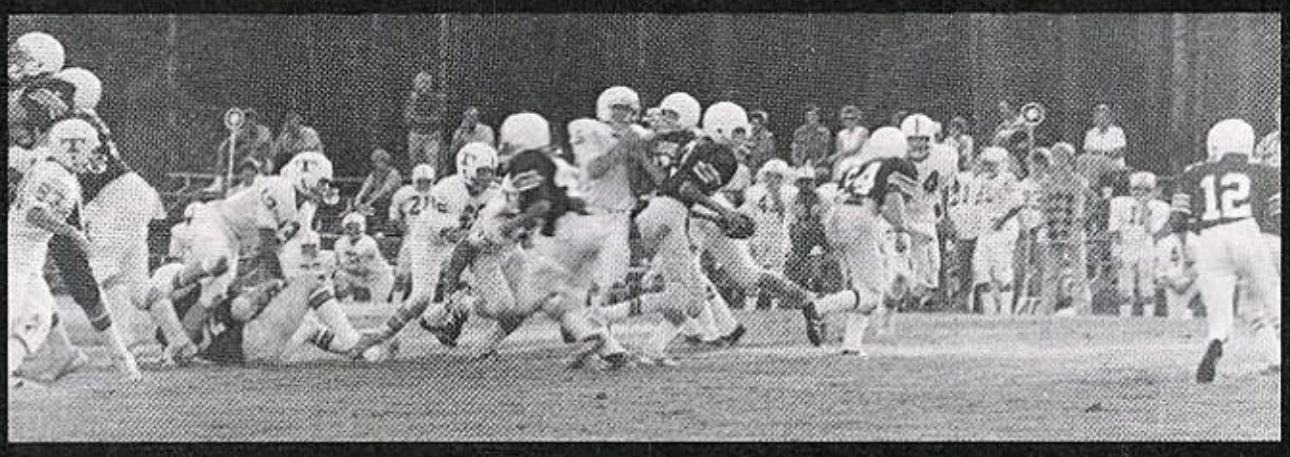
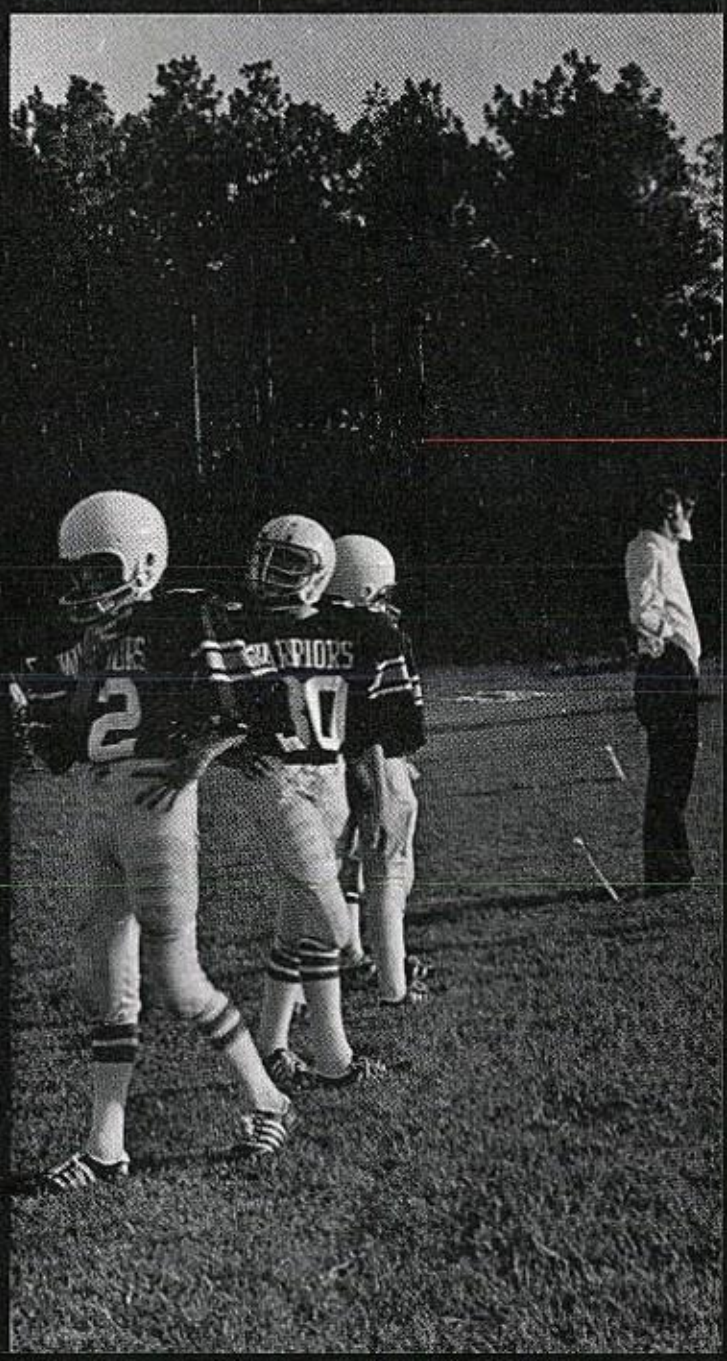
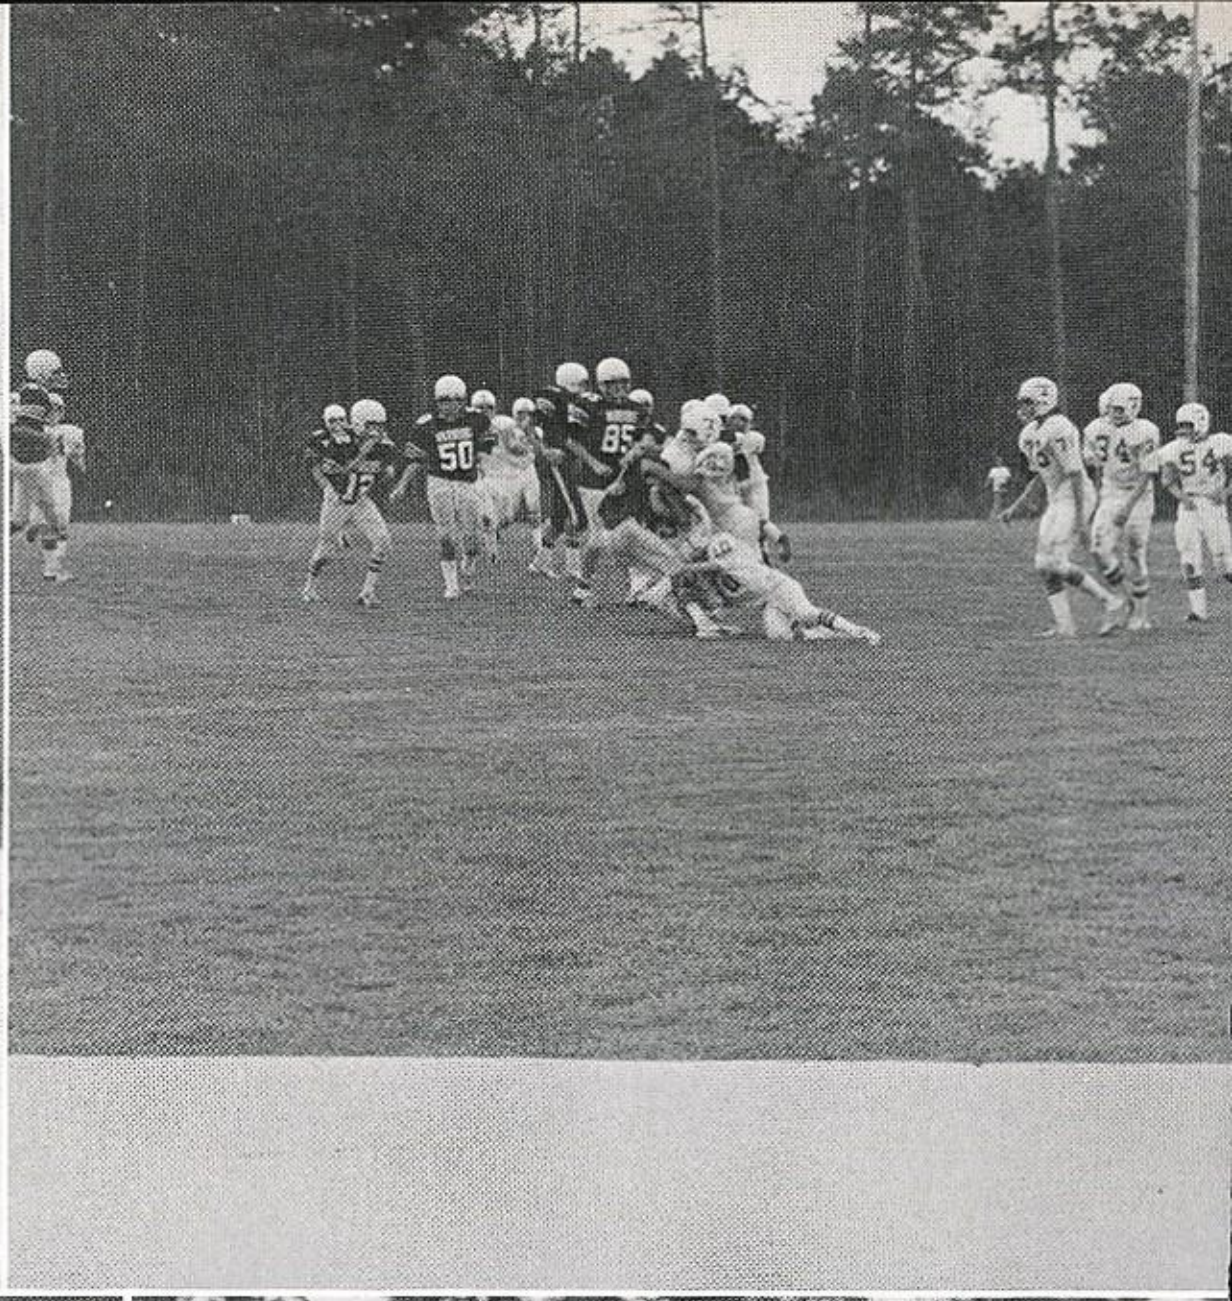
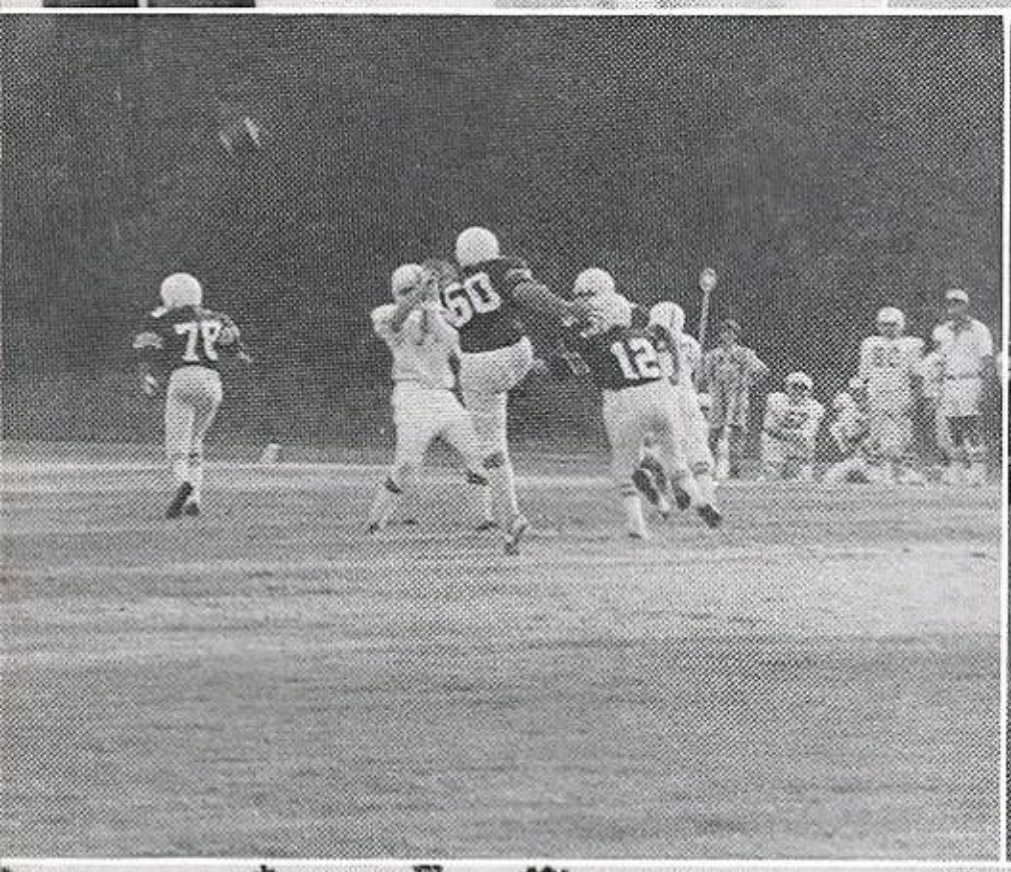
Even though the J.V. football players only won one game, they gave it all they had throughout the season with a little pushing from Coach King and his assistant Robert Benton. They worked extremely hard doing varsity-caliber drills, trying for the ultimate goal of victory; they finally achieved this goal in their next-to-last game against Westbrook.

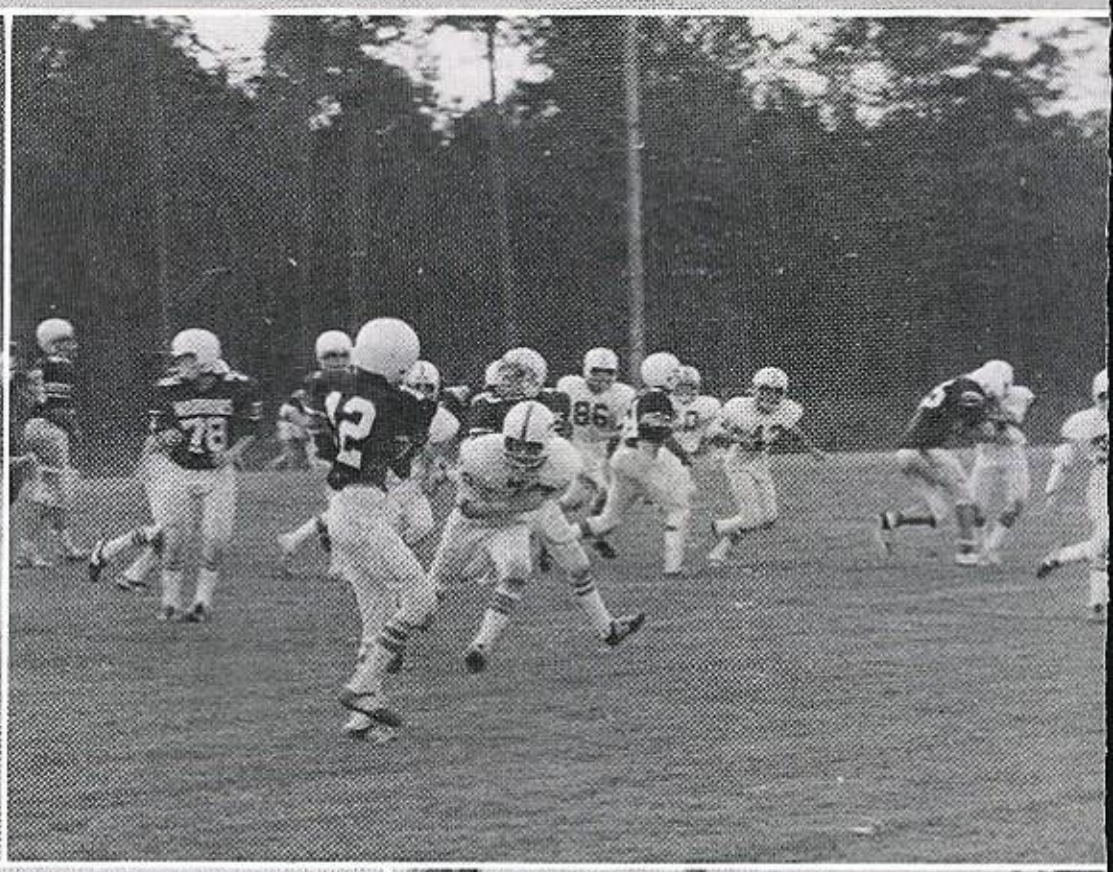


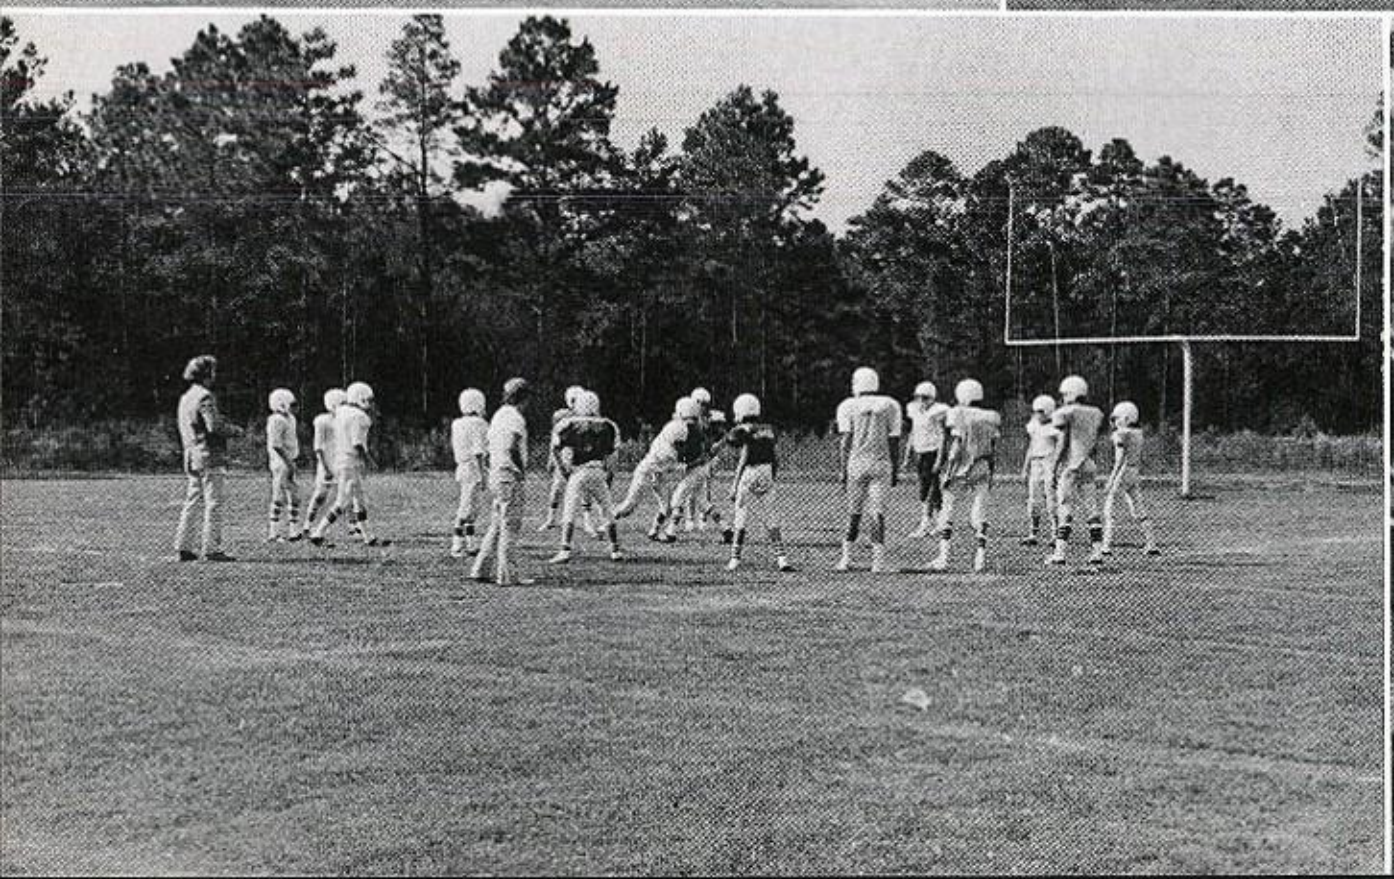


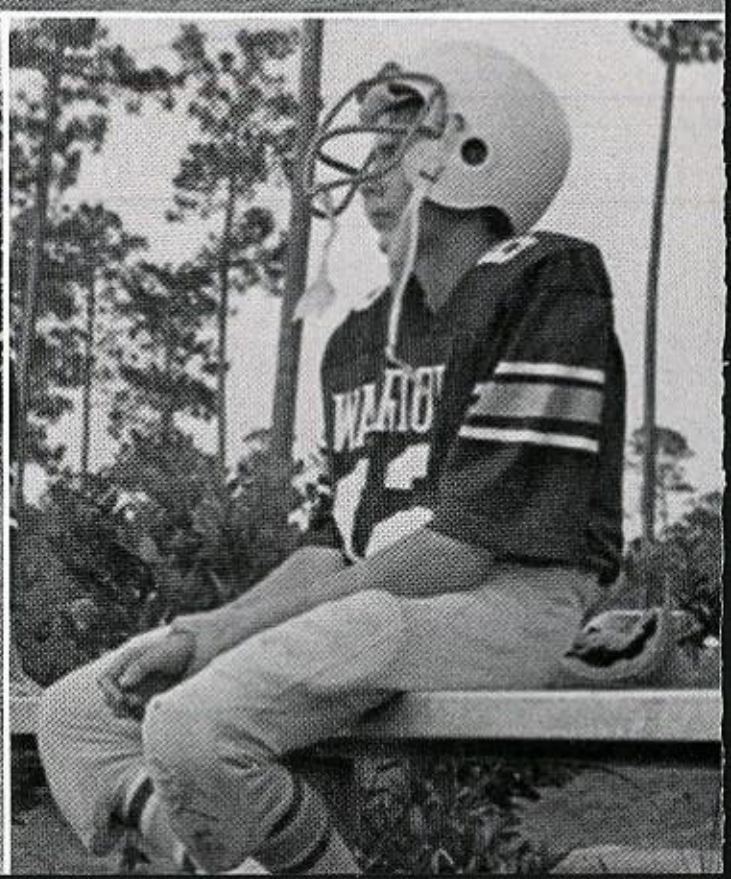












JV Football Cheerleaders

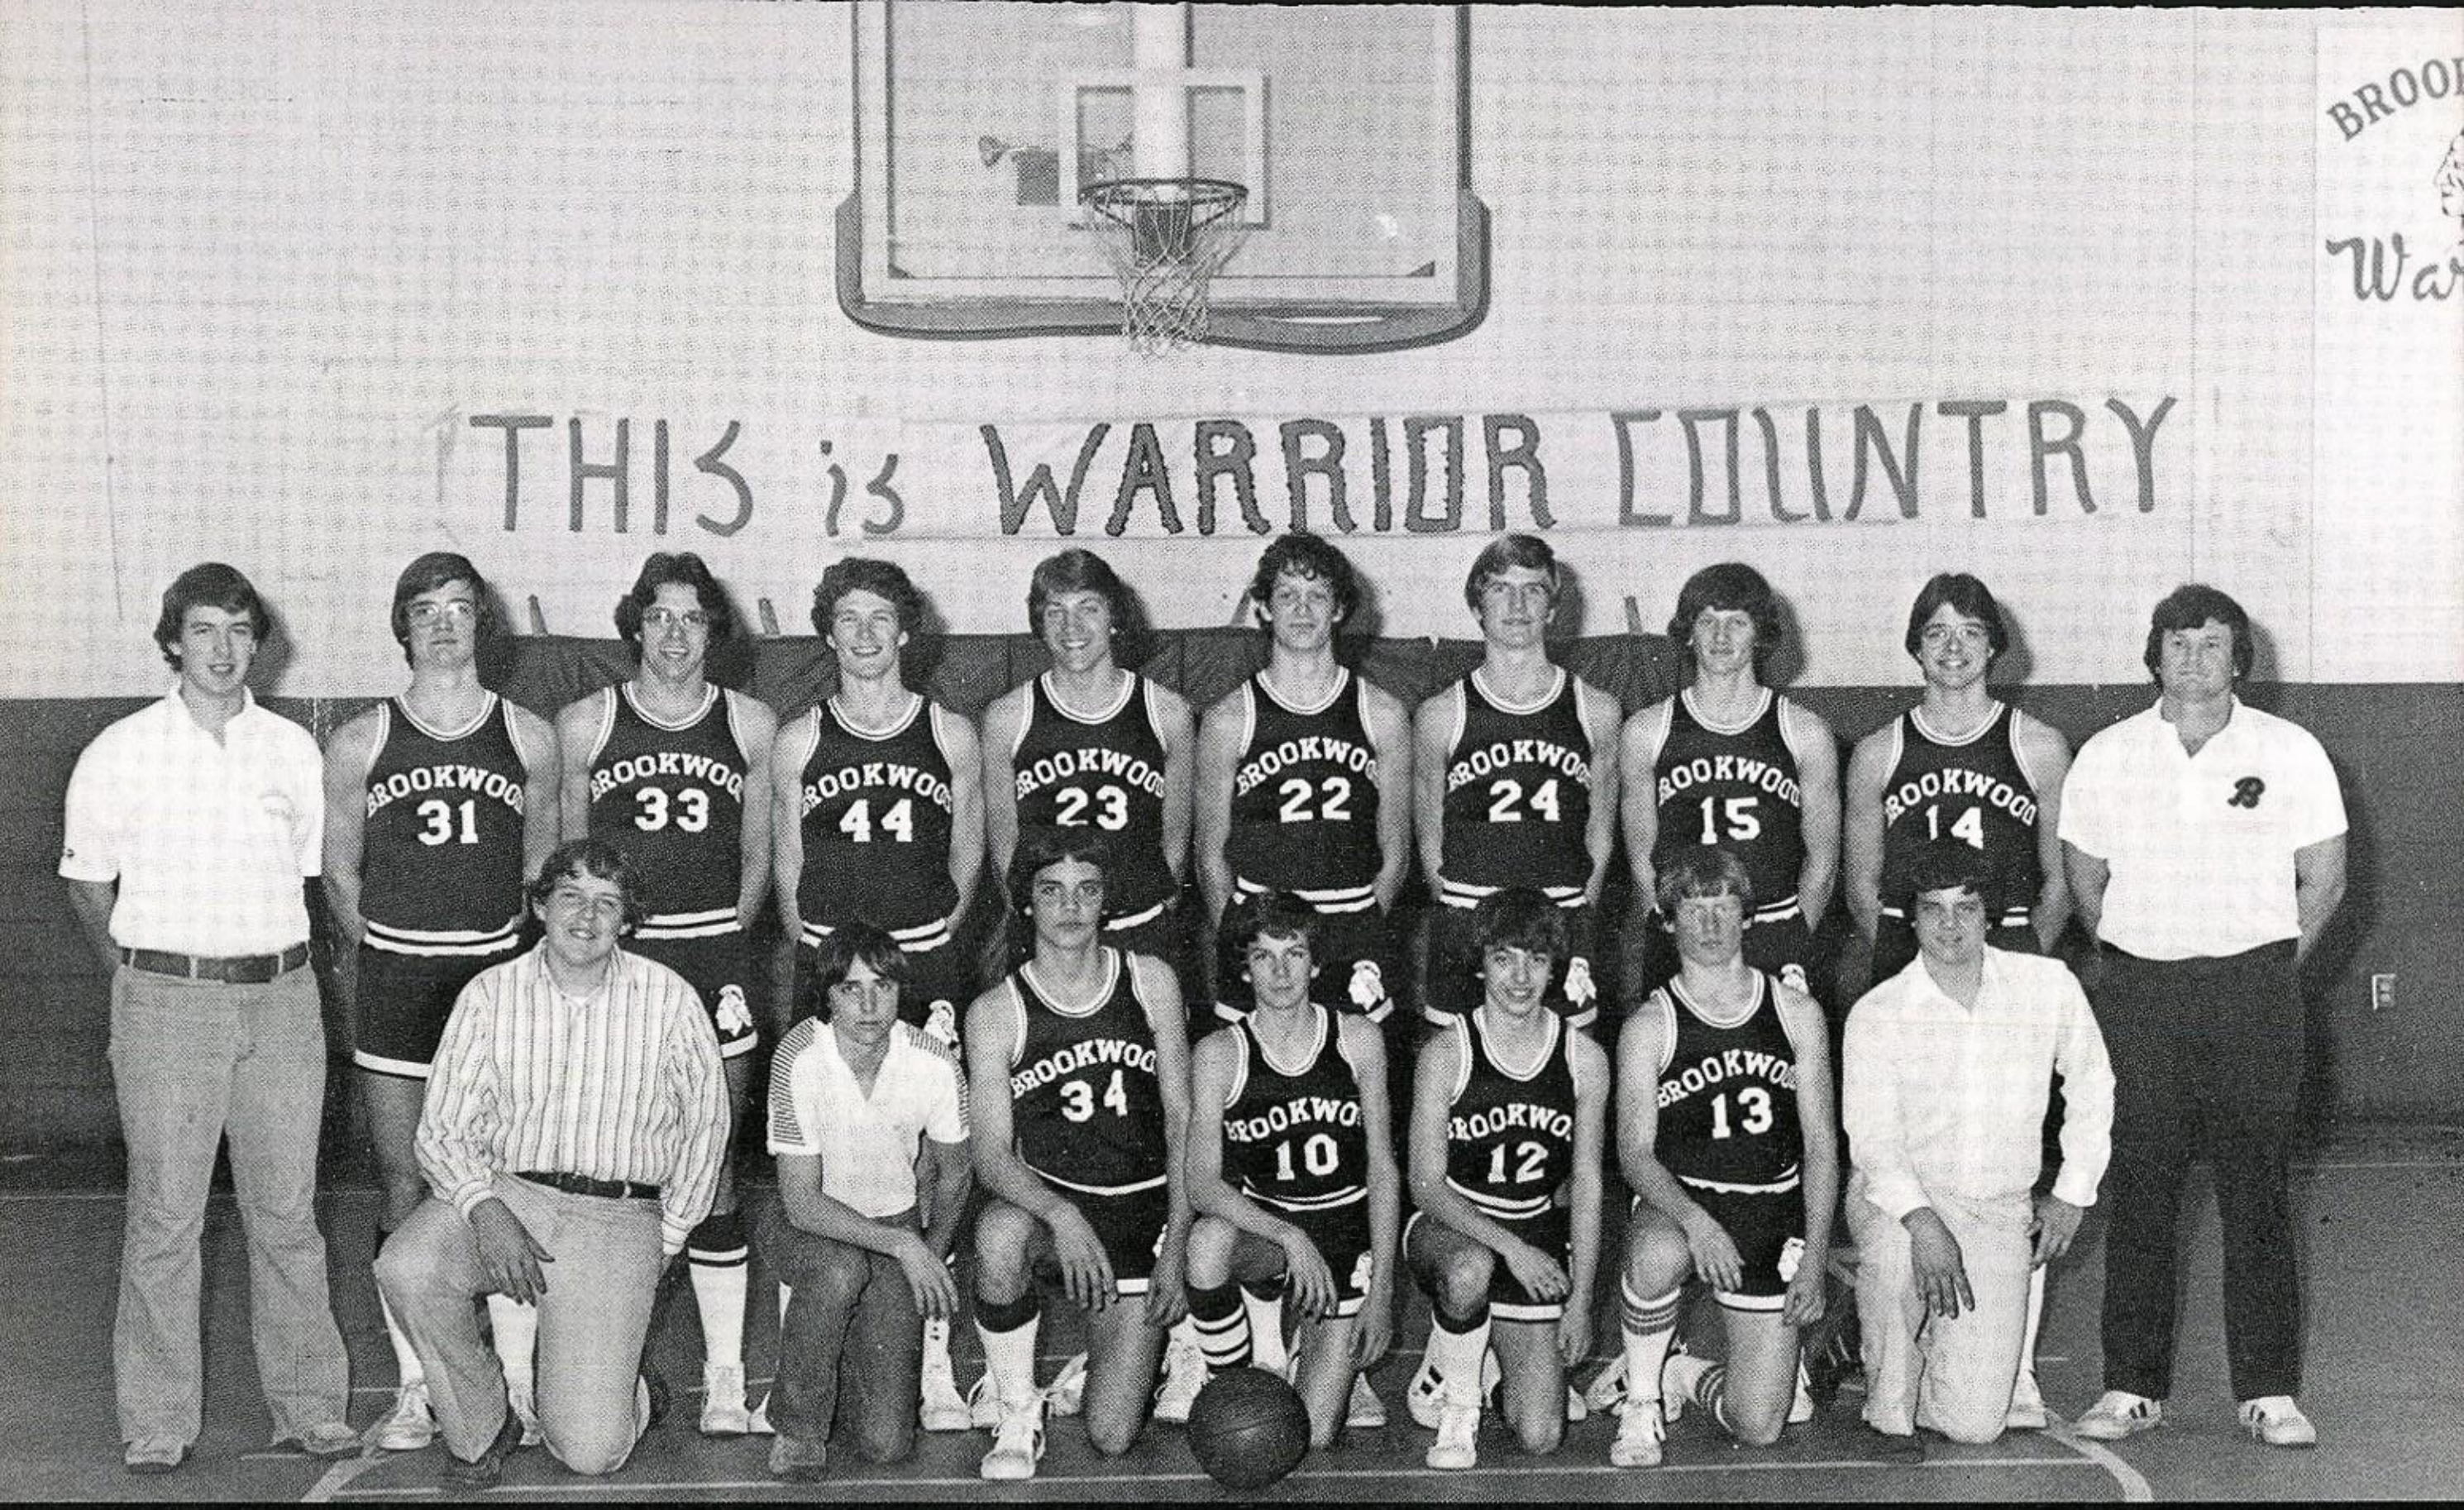
Besides sparking the team's spirit and charming the home crowds, these active J.V. cheerleaders worked hard perfecting their routines and scheming up surprises for the players. They eagerly await the coming years when they will at last have their chance for a spot on the varsity squad.



1977-1978 Region 5-A Runner-up

With four starters missing from last year's state championship squad, no one expected much from the 77–78 Warriors. However, they overcame the statistics and posted yet another winning season with a display of contagious team spirit. They upheld the three-year tradition of recording no losses on their home court by trouncing Georgia Christian 76–58 in a show for an exuberant home crowd at Parents Night. Their final record was 16–6, and they won the Region 5–A runner-up trophy.

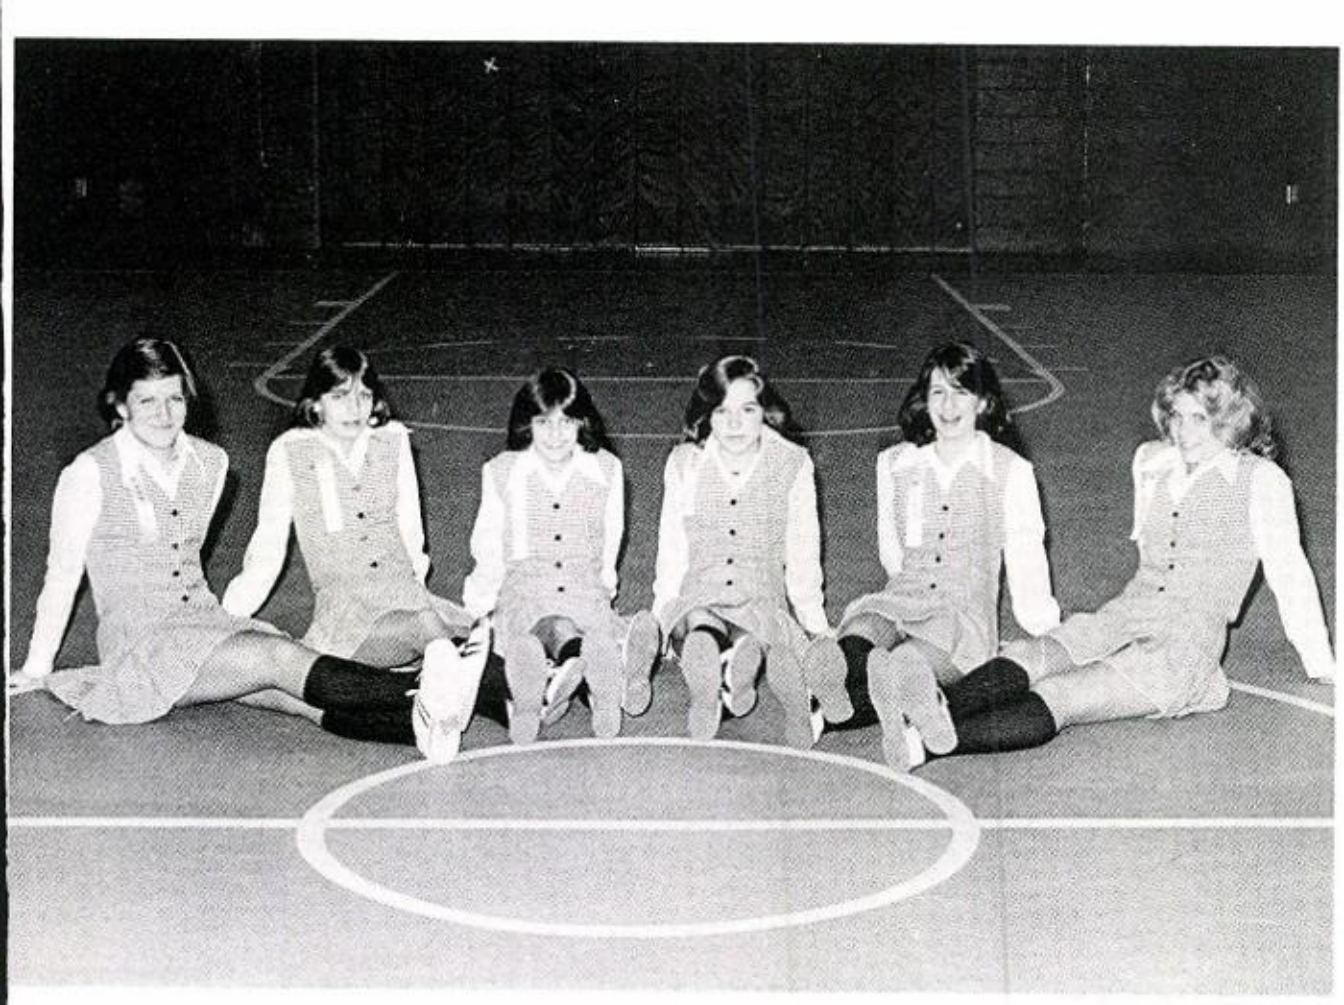
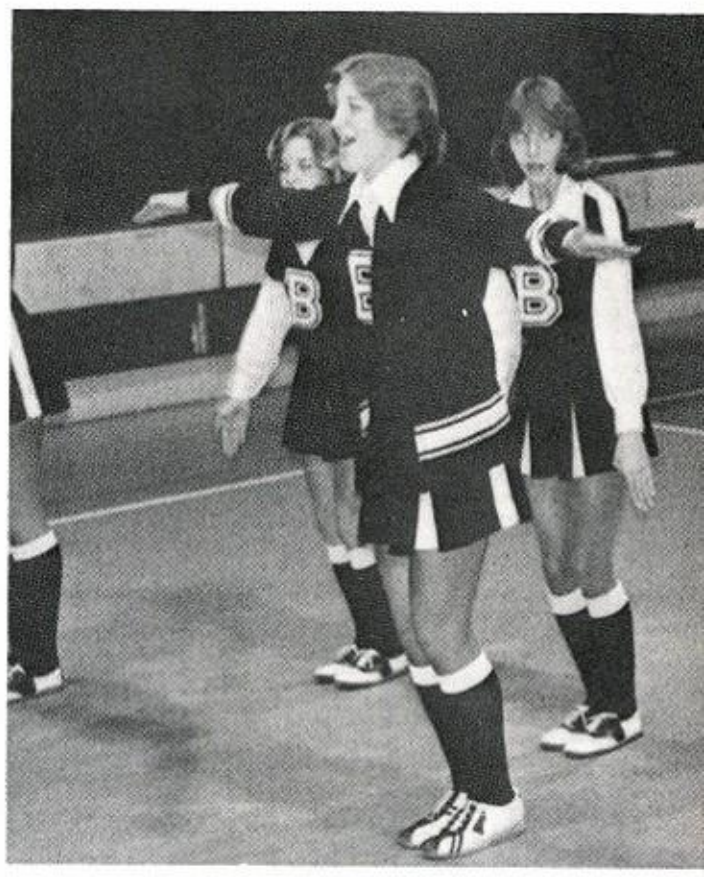
The Junior Varsity basketball teams had a successful year. Th boys posted a 8–4 mark, and the girls ended the season with seven wins and five losses. Both squads worked diligently all season drilling basic skills and keeping in shape. The fans agreed that the future looks bright for Brookwood's basketball program.



With the leadership of the ninth graders, the Junior Varsity basketball cheerleaders kept the spirit alive throughout their exhausting season. They gained experience by cheering during the varsity pep rallies, and they stayed busy decorating the bus and making signs.



GOLF TEAM WINS STATE

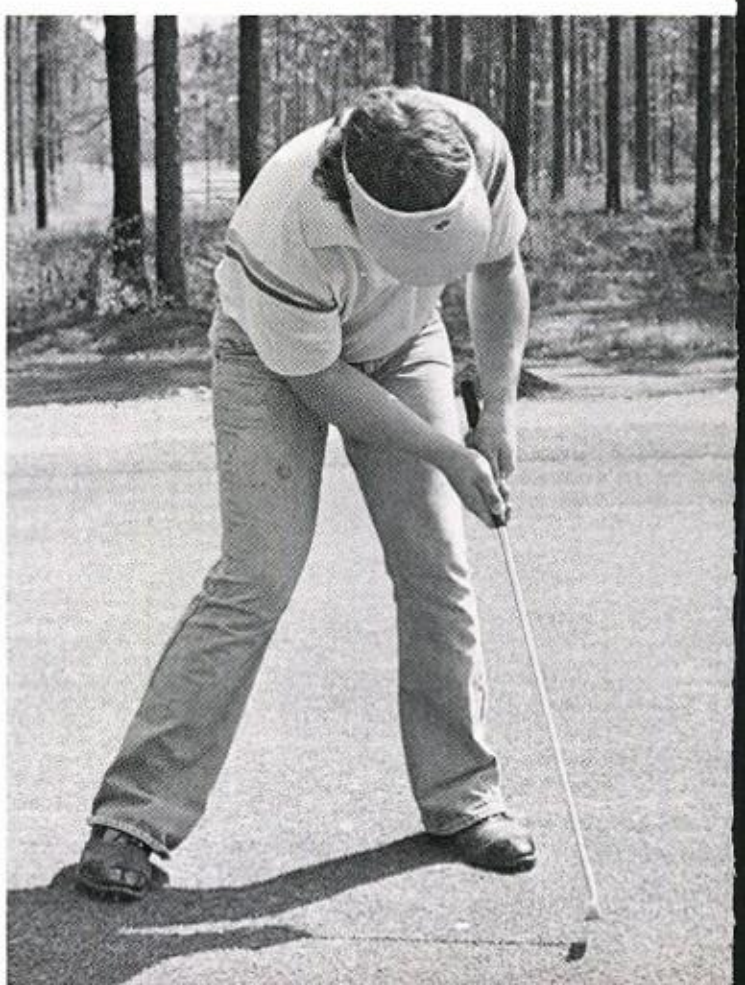
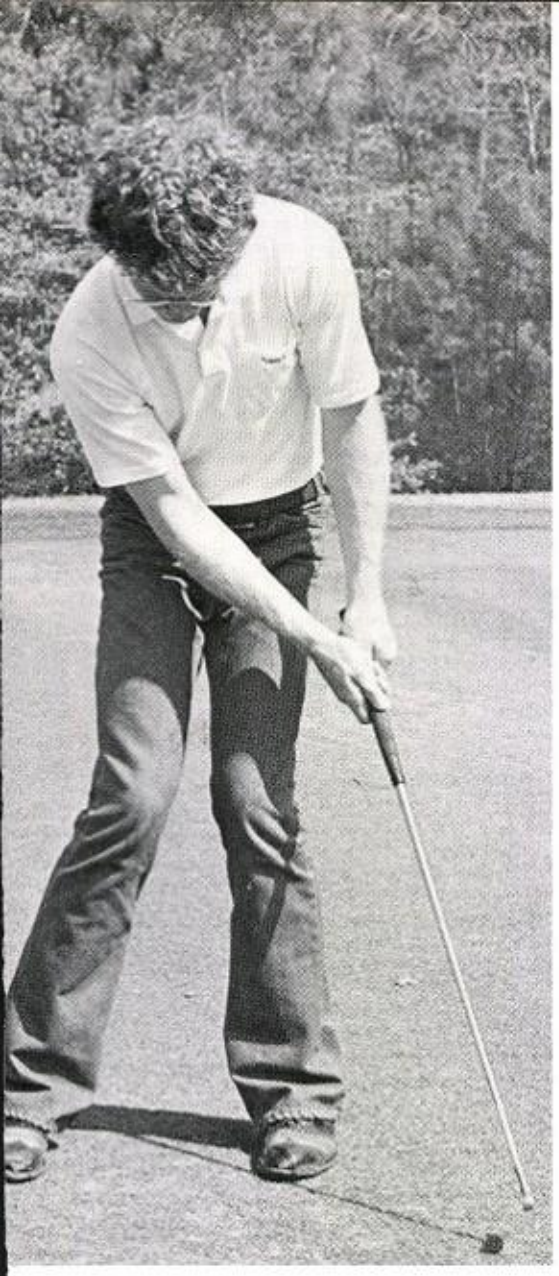
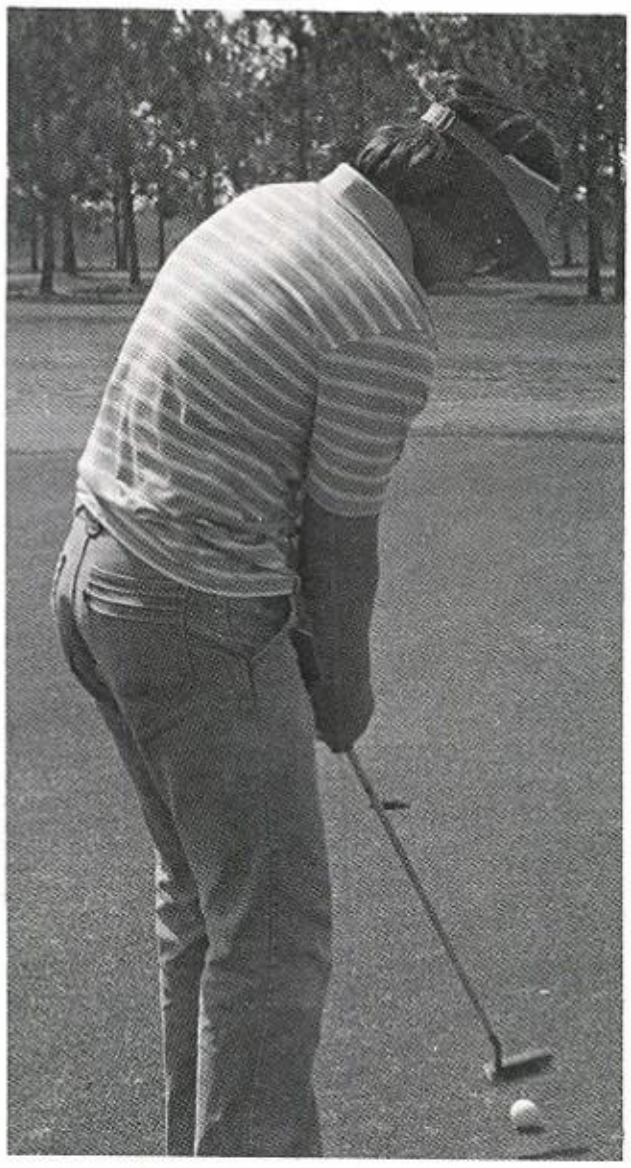
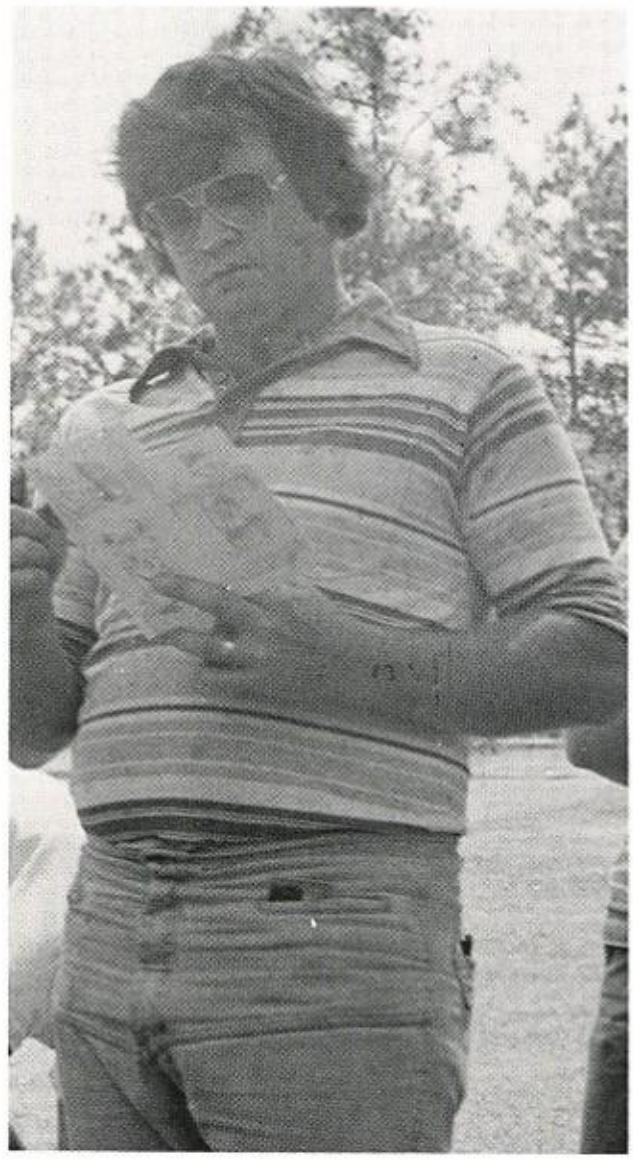
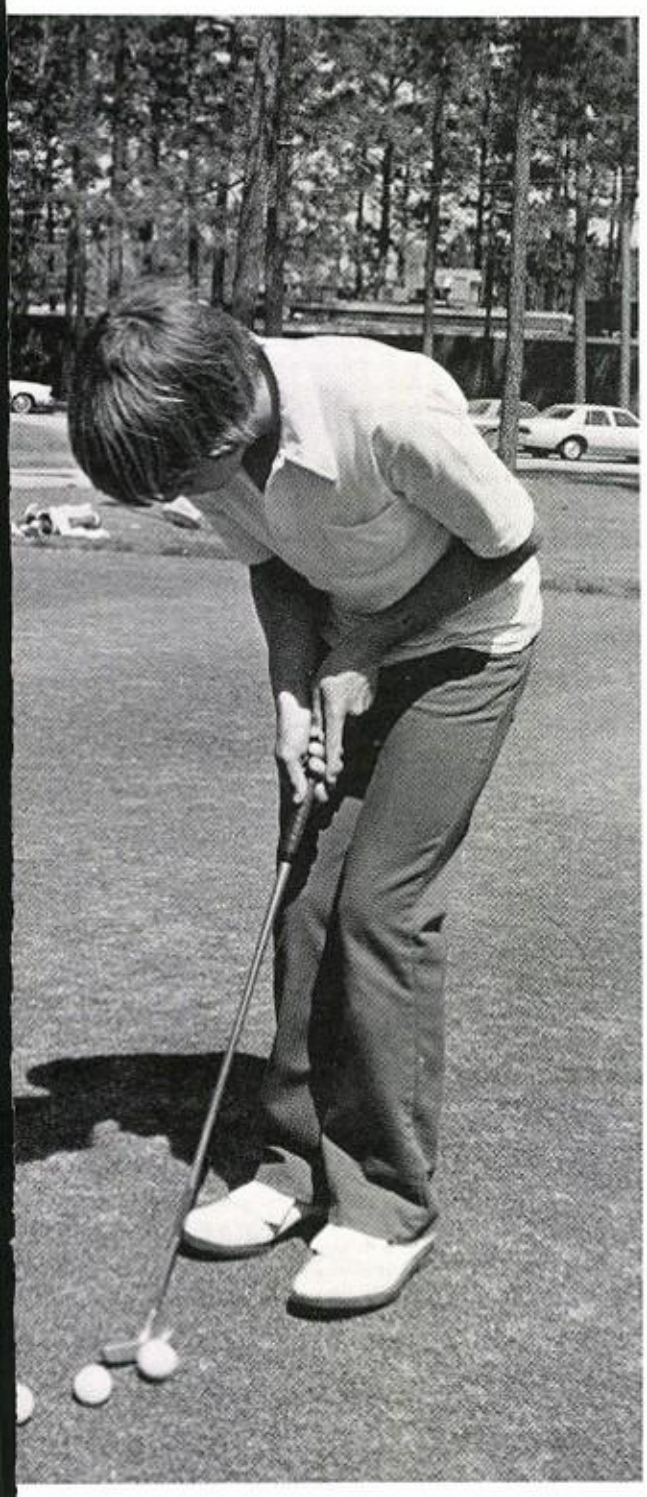
The 1978 golf season was the year in whic new records were set. Senior Rick Singleta led the team to a new team score record 305 with his scorching 68 followed by B Hodges' 74, Chris Tanner's 80, and Richa Middleton's 83. All of this occurred on th route to another region championship fo lowed by the fourth state championship in row — another school record.

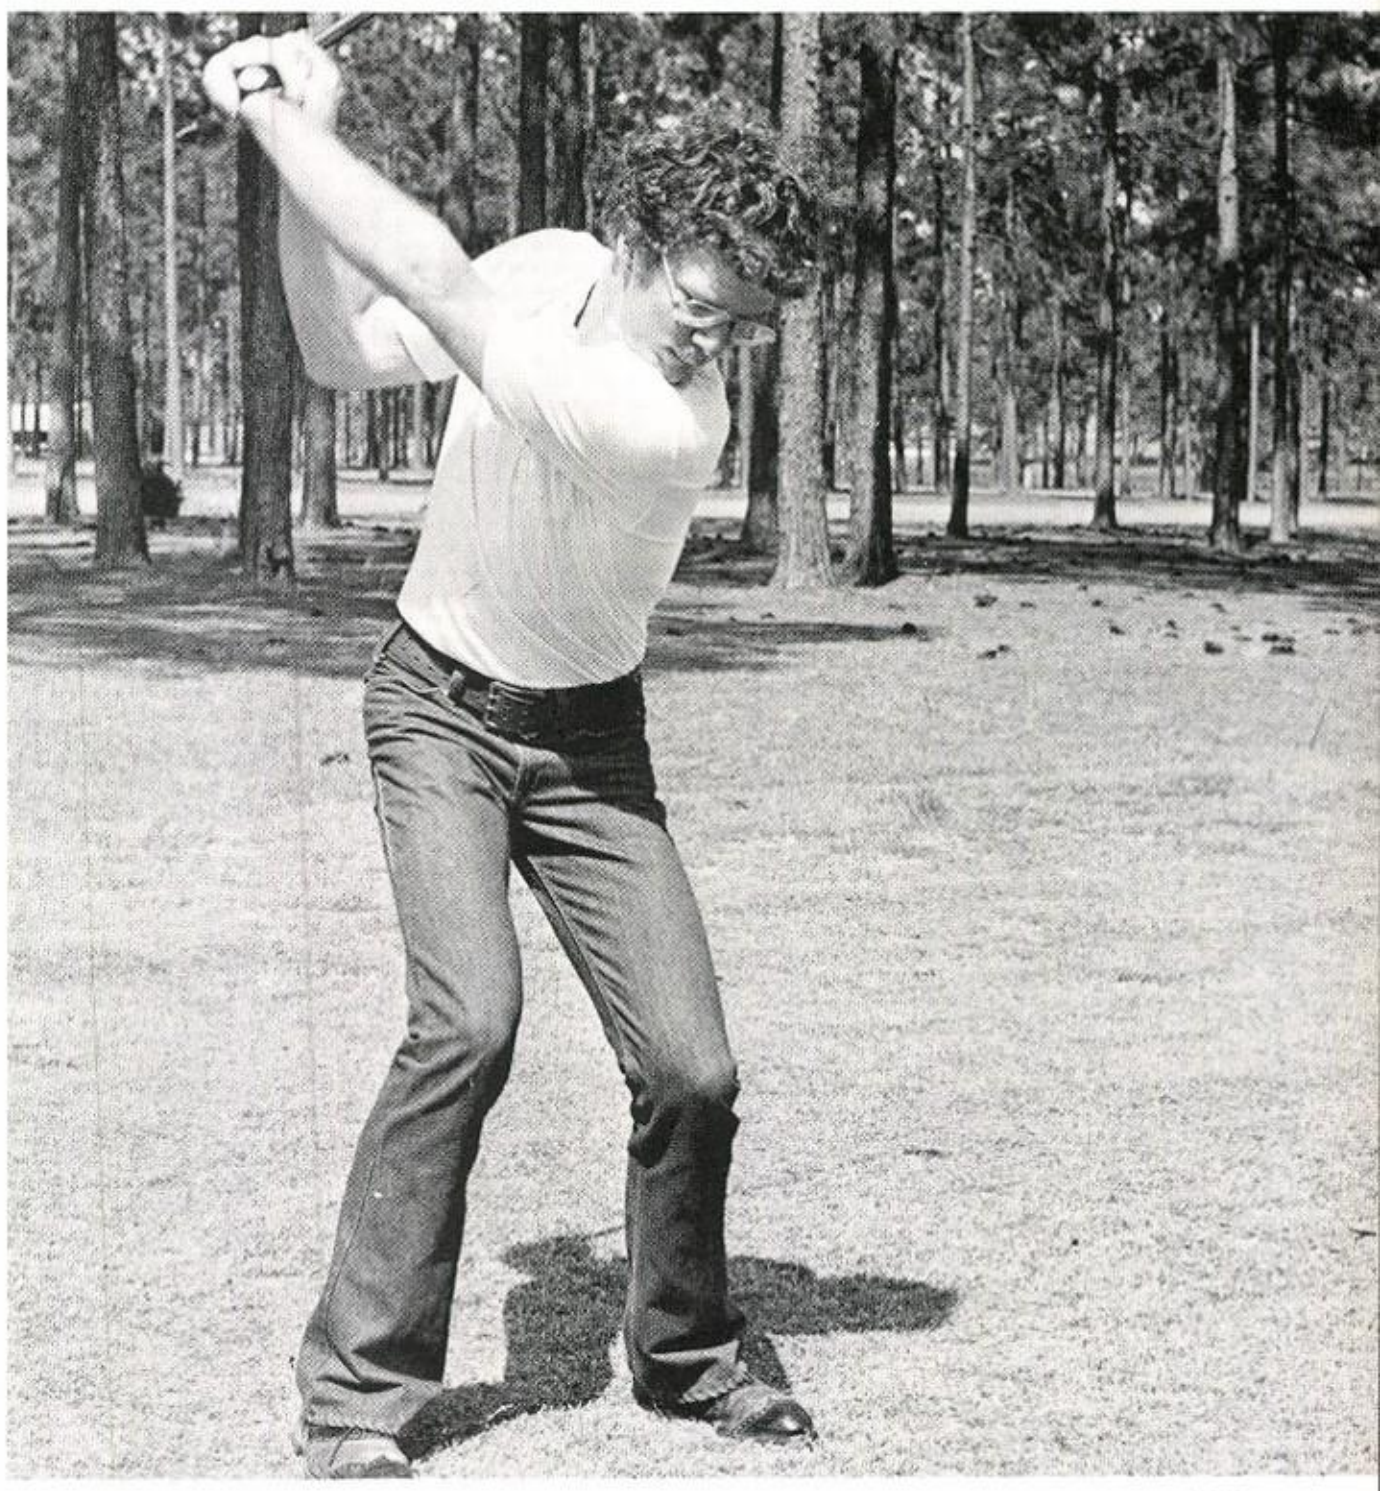












The 1978 Baseball Team

The baseball team got off to a slow start but finished with a winning 6–5 mark. With the leadership of the five seniors, the team overcame problems with injuries and the inexperienced pitching staff to pull off a successful season.

The 1978 Softball Team

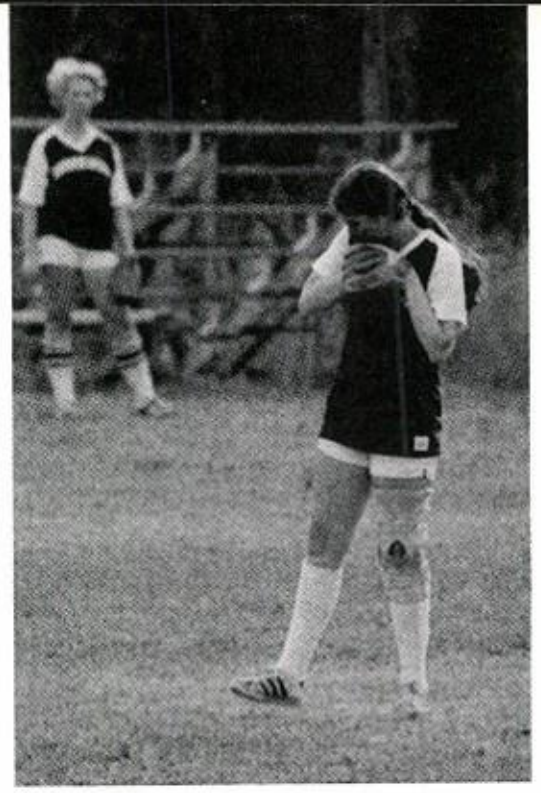
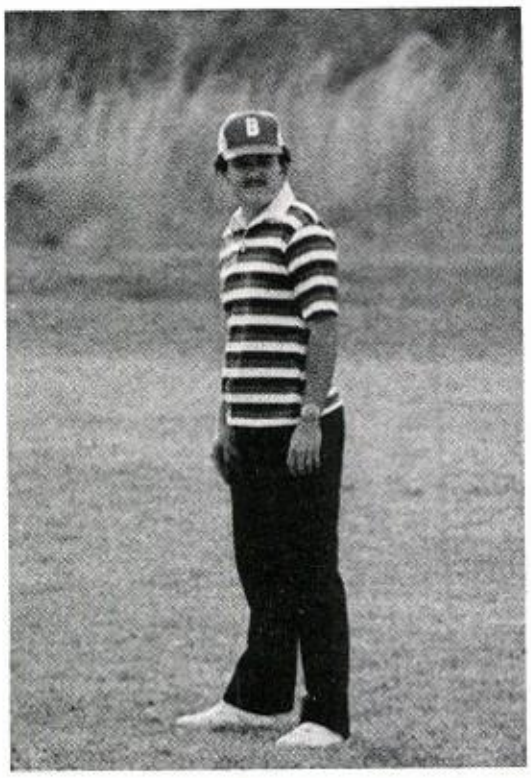
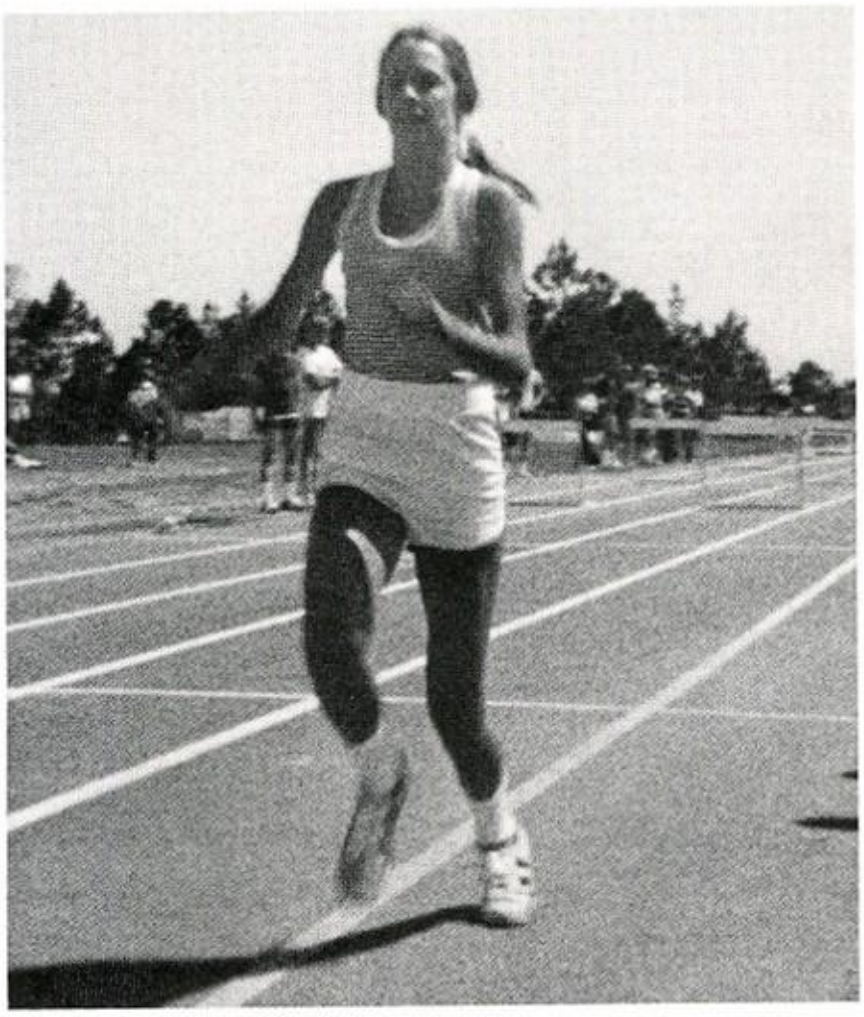
The 1978 Track Team

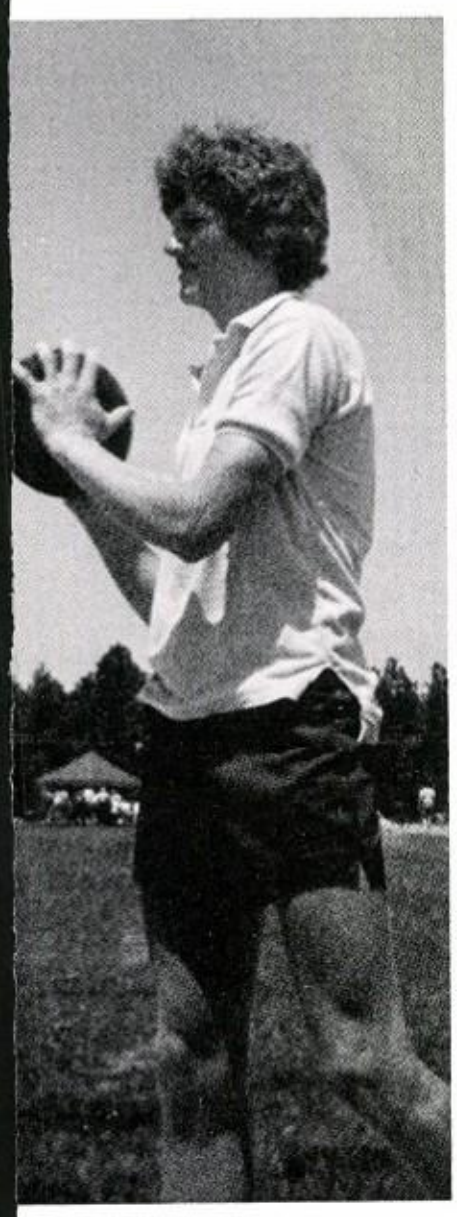
Front to back: Philip Watt, Bert Harper, Julie Bryan, Mark Parker, Glynn Willis, Dawn Alligood, Debbie Alligood, Greg Russell, David Dunnam, Herbert Butler, Lib Wight.

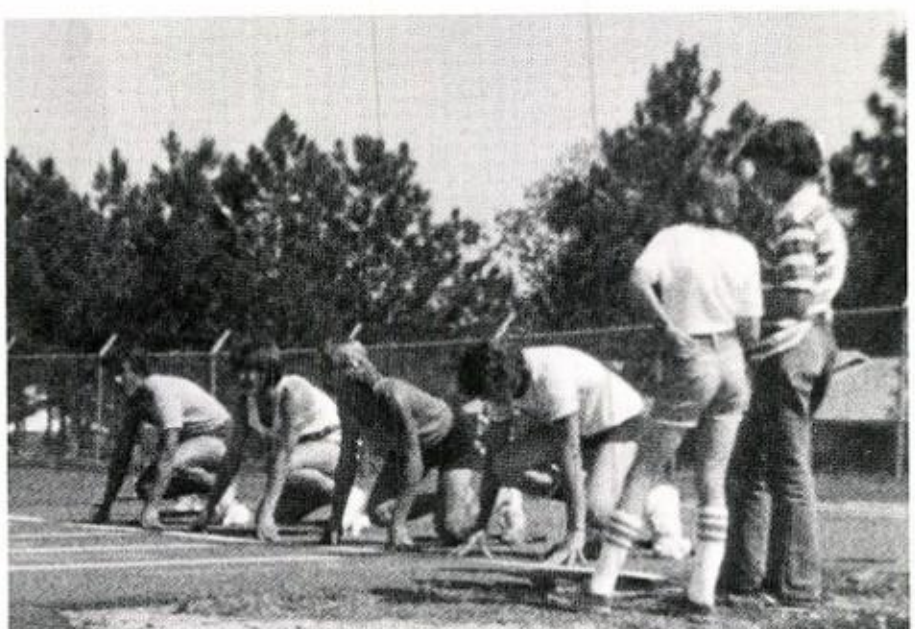
The girls' softball team broke their 13 game losing streak this season when they won their first game ever against Westbrook. Under the guidance of Coach Robert Rainey, the team kept improving and went on to a 4–6 season. They participated in a four-game tourney at the end of the year.











The track team this year went to the region meet with an average of less than 30 minutes practice for each person. With this tremendous amount of practice, the team did surprisingly well. Lib Wight won 1st place in the girls' 880-yard dash, Herbert Butler won 2nd in the discus throw, and David Dunnam won 3rd in the 440-yard dash.

The 1978 Tennis Team

The tennis team, under the direction of Coach Joe Smith, sent the winning girls' doubles team to region: Beth Hodges and Laurie Fenlon. The boys' and girls' teams played and won several individual matches, but the entire team posted no wins. Both, however, have many young players that show promise, and Brookwood will continue to be a region contender.

Student Government

This year proved a learning experience for Student Government. A new advisor and new officers stepped into the role of leadership for the student body. They were in charge of the Homecoming, Christmas, and Spring dances, and they also sponsored a singles' party. Homecoming mums, Valentine carnations, and ice cream were sold for their money-raising projects.

Seated L-R: Lib Wight, Dawn Allen, Laura Parker, Elizabeth McKinnon, Andrea McKenzie, Joni Sanford, Ginny Groover, Beth Malone, Elizabeth Varnedoe.
Standing L-R: Mr. Roy King, Gene Phillips, Glenn Willis, Karen Bush, Julie Cheney, Joey Bentley, Martha Singletary, Amy Stone.

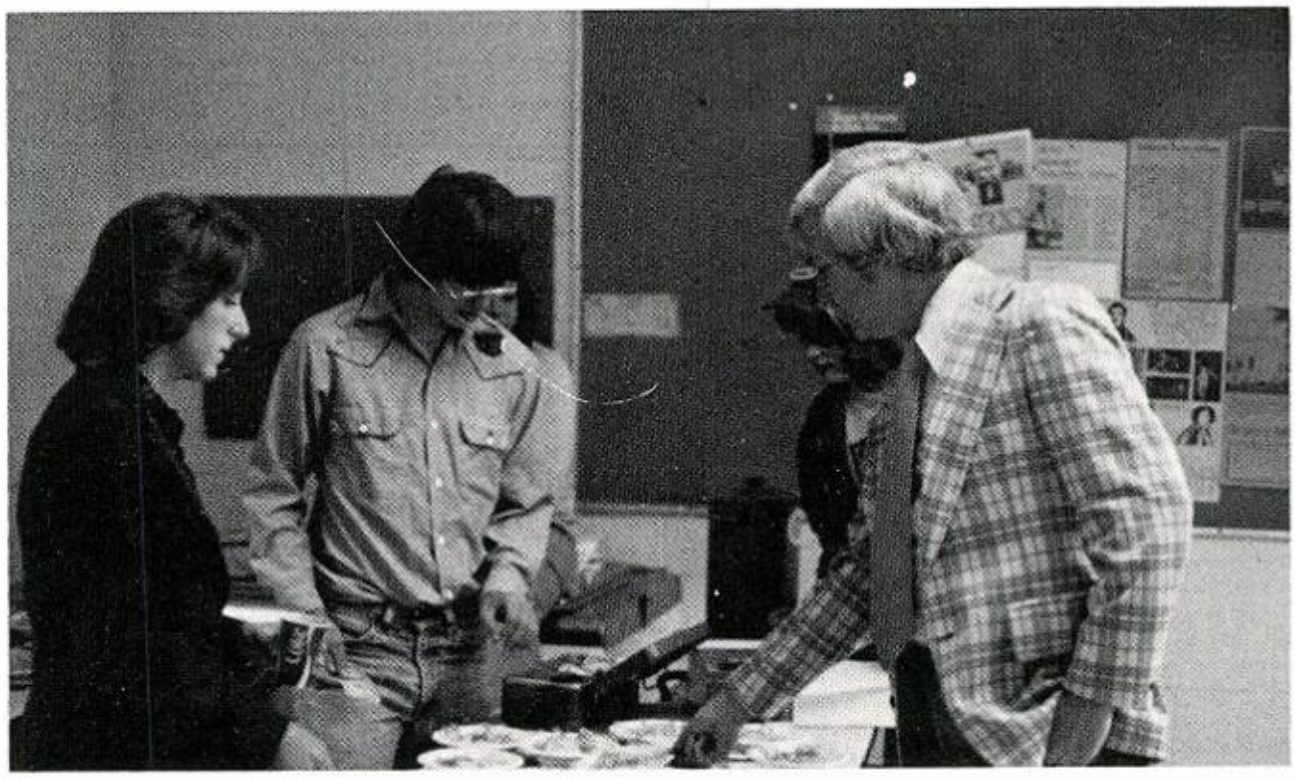
Hard Work, Lots of Fun —

Through a long year of constantly working to get things together, the annual staff has once again put out a top-notch annual. The business staff kept the group moving by sponsoring various money-raising projects, including the Sweetheart Contest. All through the year, the staff was busy preparing the annual for its publication, while photographers ran about taking pictures. Despite the year being packed with hard work and frustrations, they decided that making the yearbook was worth the effort.



Annual Staff Produces Masterpiece

Epsilon Tri-Hi-Y has been working very hard this year on both school and community projects. Tri-Hi-Y members are always ready to do anything from painting house numbers on curbs to participating in YMCA state and district conferences. This year Epsilon hosted Youth Assembly Clinic for all Y-clubs in the Southwest District of Georgia.

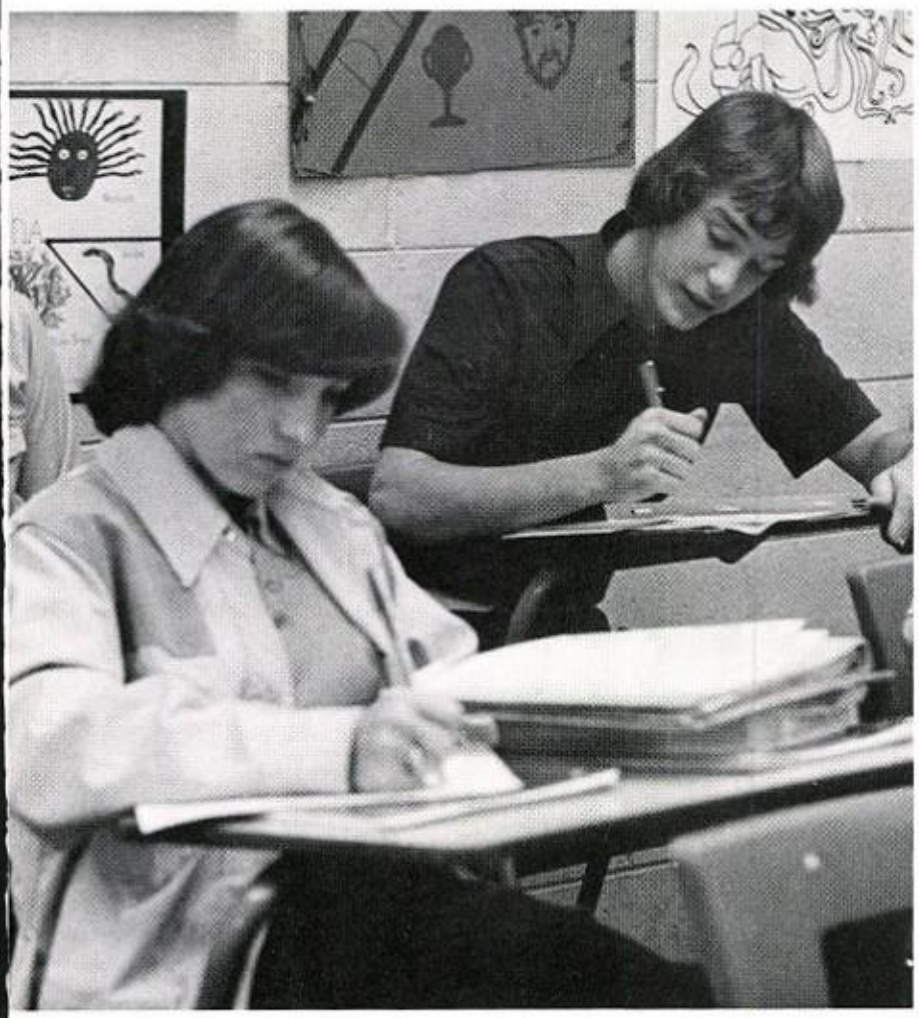
Tri-Hi-Y Serves Community and School

Calliope Motivates Creativity



For the first time the Calliope staff became a class and met five days a week. Their writings along with some of the high school's poetry will be published in their annual magazine. Following their tradition, they sponsored the decoration of Christmas doors, portraying old Christmas stories.

Booster Club Lends Financial and Moral Support

The Booster Club has stood behind our teams throughout the year. Along with giving our teams moral support, they operated the concession stands at all home games to raise money. The Boosters paid team expenses on overnight trips and sponsored two awards banquets to honor the players and cheerleaders. Another parent group, the Brookwood Parent Council, contributed much needed gifts to the school.

In the latter portion of the year, two new clubs were formed — the Key Club and Photo Club. The members of the Photo Club learned how to develop pictures and improve their photography skills. The Key Club helped the school by doing such service projects as helping the mothers by helping them set up the A.F.S. banquet. They also selected a monthly Key Club Sweetheart.

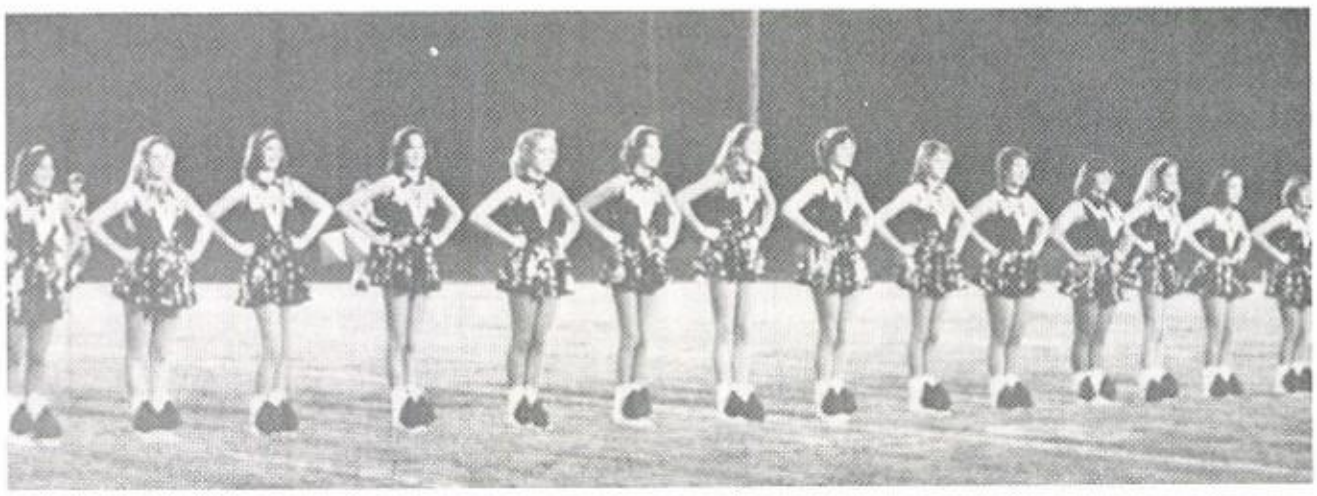
ACTIVITIES

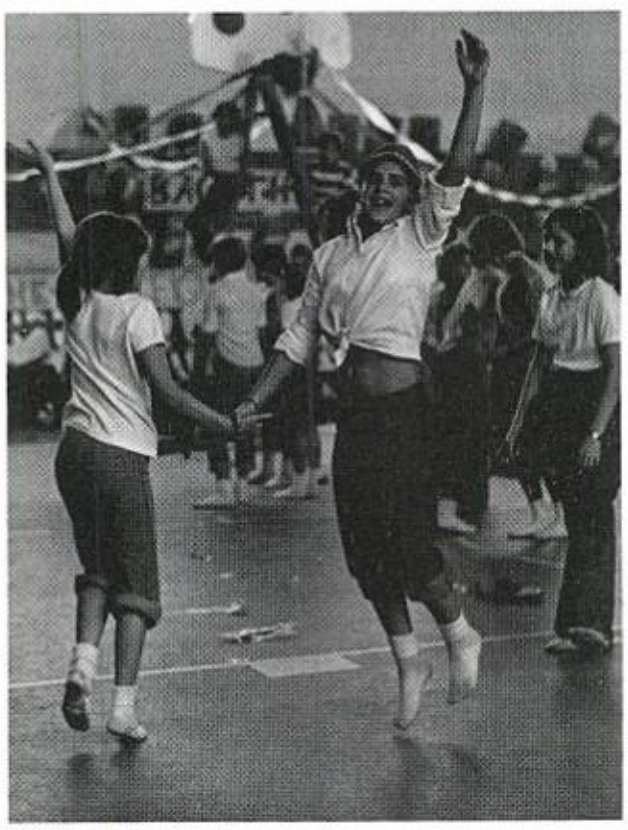
1977 Homecoming Queen — Julie Cheney

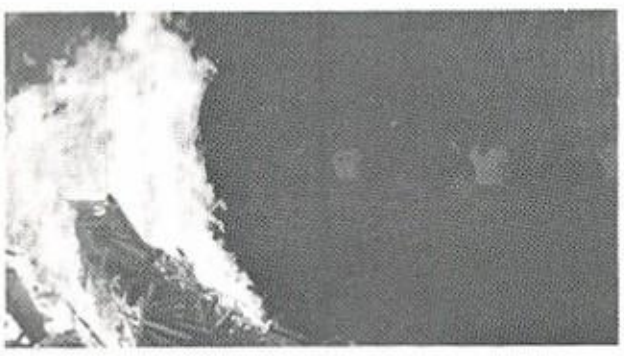
Homecoming 1977

Students Dance to Sock Hop Swing

As usual, Homecoming week was filled with outrageous dress, loads of school spirit, and frenzied activity as students frantically worked to finish their walls on time. The week was highlighted with a sock hop, and for the first time students boogied to a live band. The queen and court were announced at the bonfire Thursday night. The super seniors again won the colorful wall contest. To top it off, the Warriors enjoyed a victory over Terrell, and the students celebrated with a victory dance courtesy of the Student Government.







Fall provided a potpourri of events for the Brookwood students. Expanded this year to a country day, powder puff football game, Senior car wash, Halloween Carnival, and a Spanish pinata party, the fall activities frequently involved fun and fund raising ideas. Each occasion was identified by its outlandish dress and sometimes hay-wire confusion.

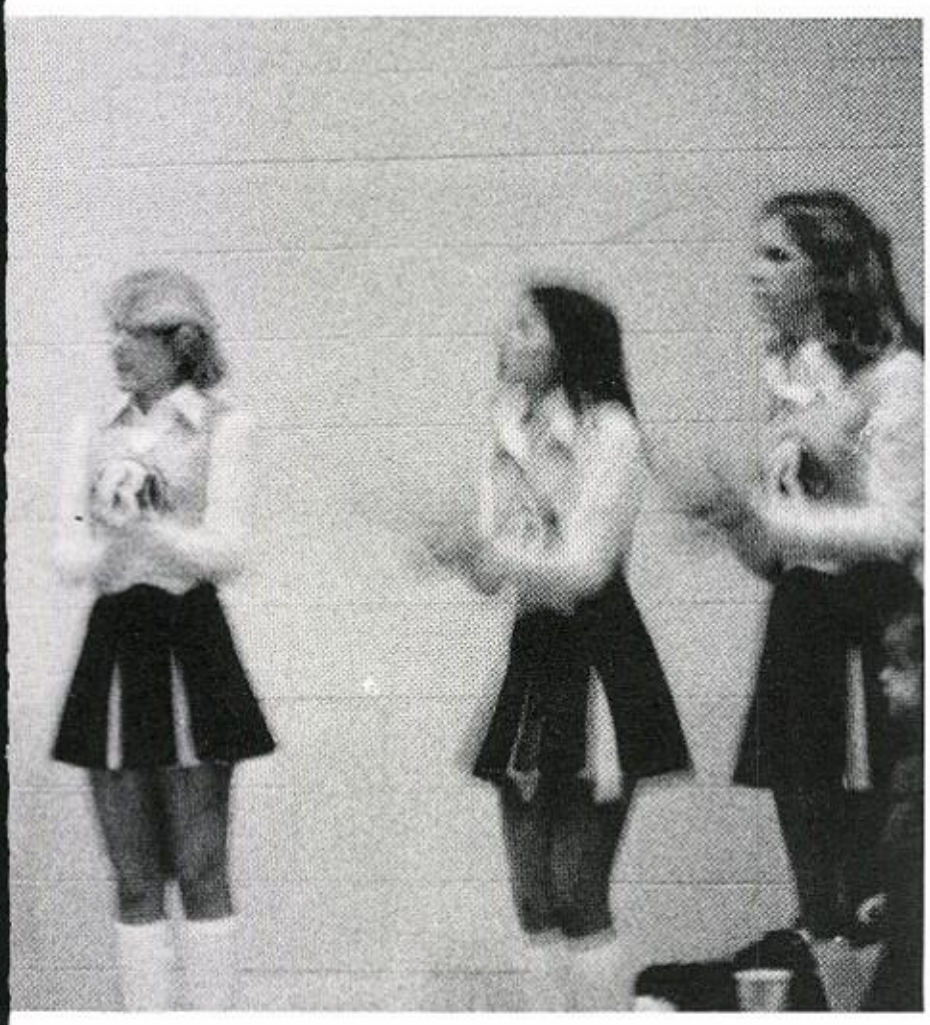
Rallies

Basketball

The cheerleaders of 1978 were continually busy with planning numerous pep rallies for the student body. These frenzied activities included skits, a kissing contest, a banana race, and pies in the coaches' faces. While the girls tried extremely hard to evoke student participation in these events, the prominent aim of the rallies was to boost the athletic teams in the night's oncoming game.



Christma

As winter sifted its cool and harsh weather upo
Brookwood, the students were heated and excited abou
the numerous Christmas events. Santa Claus, and unex

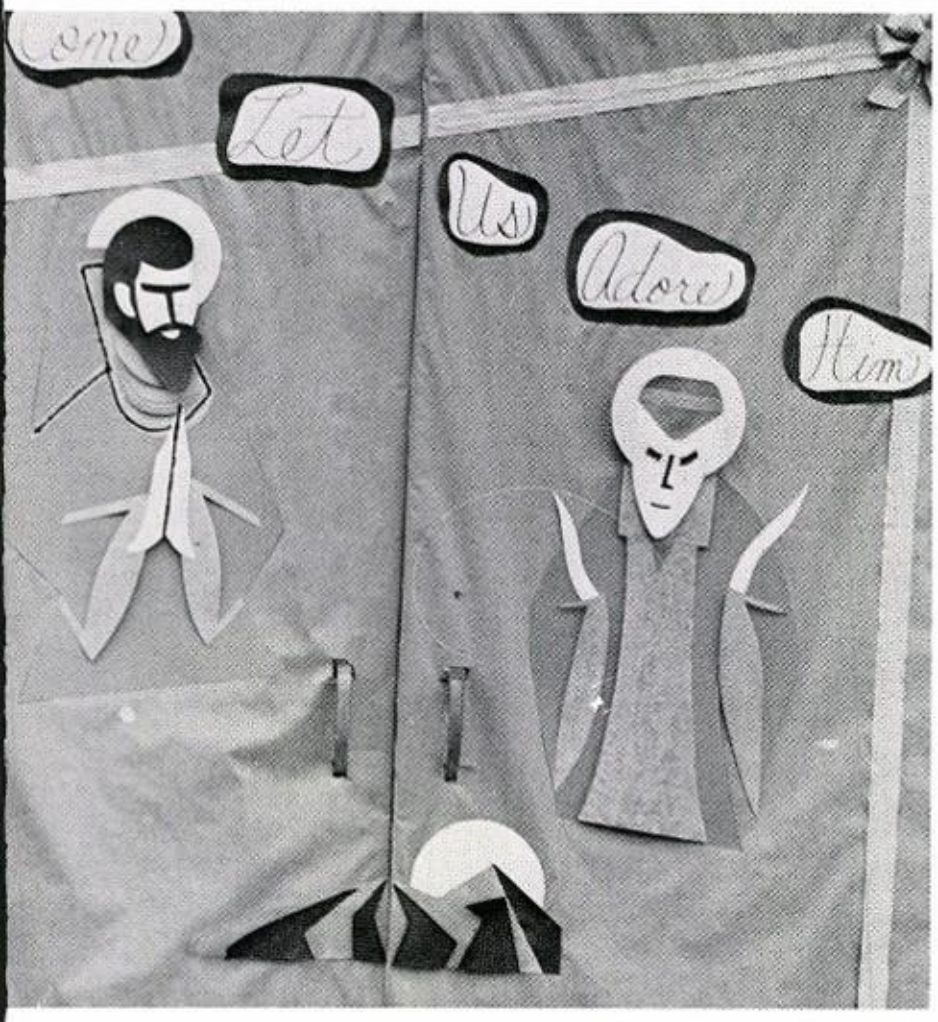
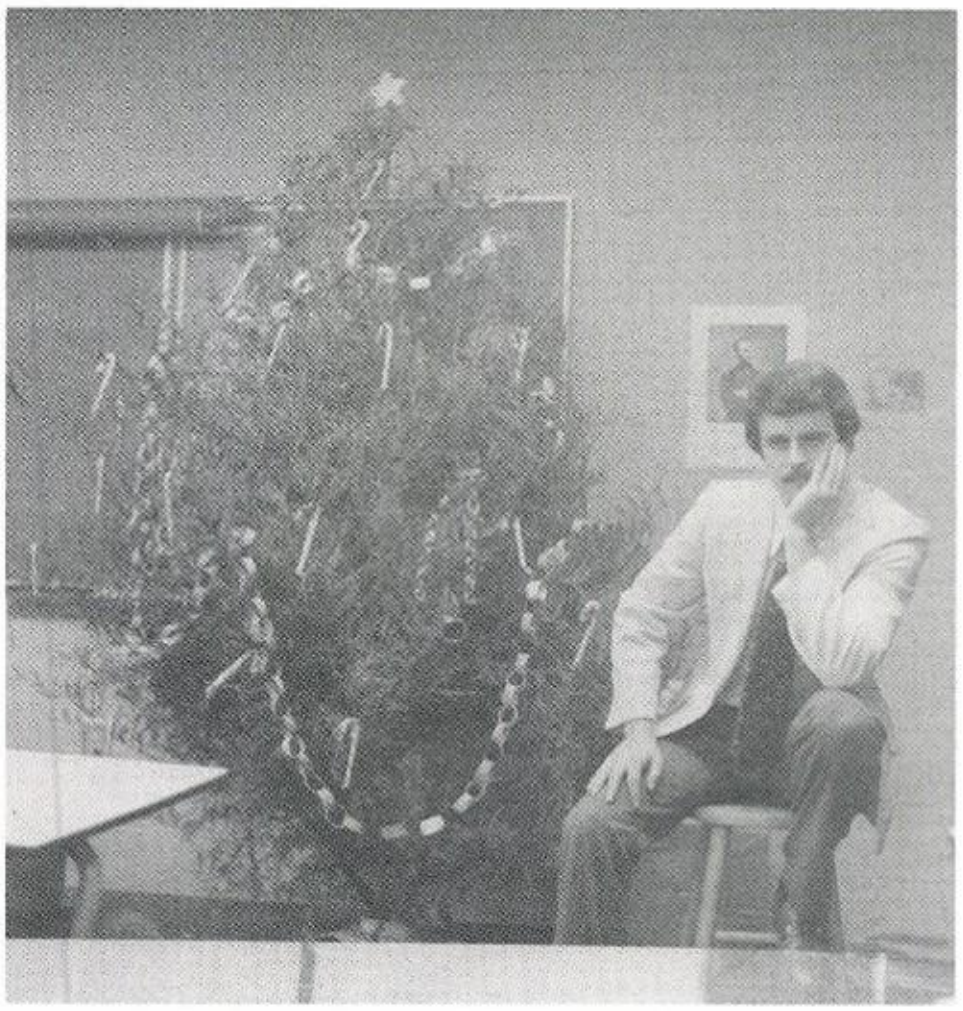
As the giving part of Christmas, students graciously rought canned goods from home to give to the Salvation rmy. All the activities were appropriately ended with hristmas carols and food galore.





Drama Play Captures Second in Region

The winning cast of "Fantasy on an Empty Stage" included Julia Arwood, Greg Connell, Laurie Fenlon, Reese Johnson, Sherry McMillian, and Jim Turner; the hardworking crew included Claire Chason, Scott Courson, Steve Overmier, and Ann Shackelford; the set designer was Mrs. Lou Rainey, and the director was Mrs. Susan Plymale.

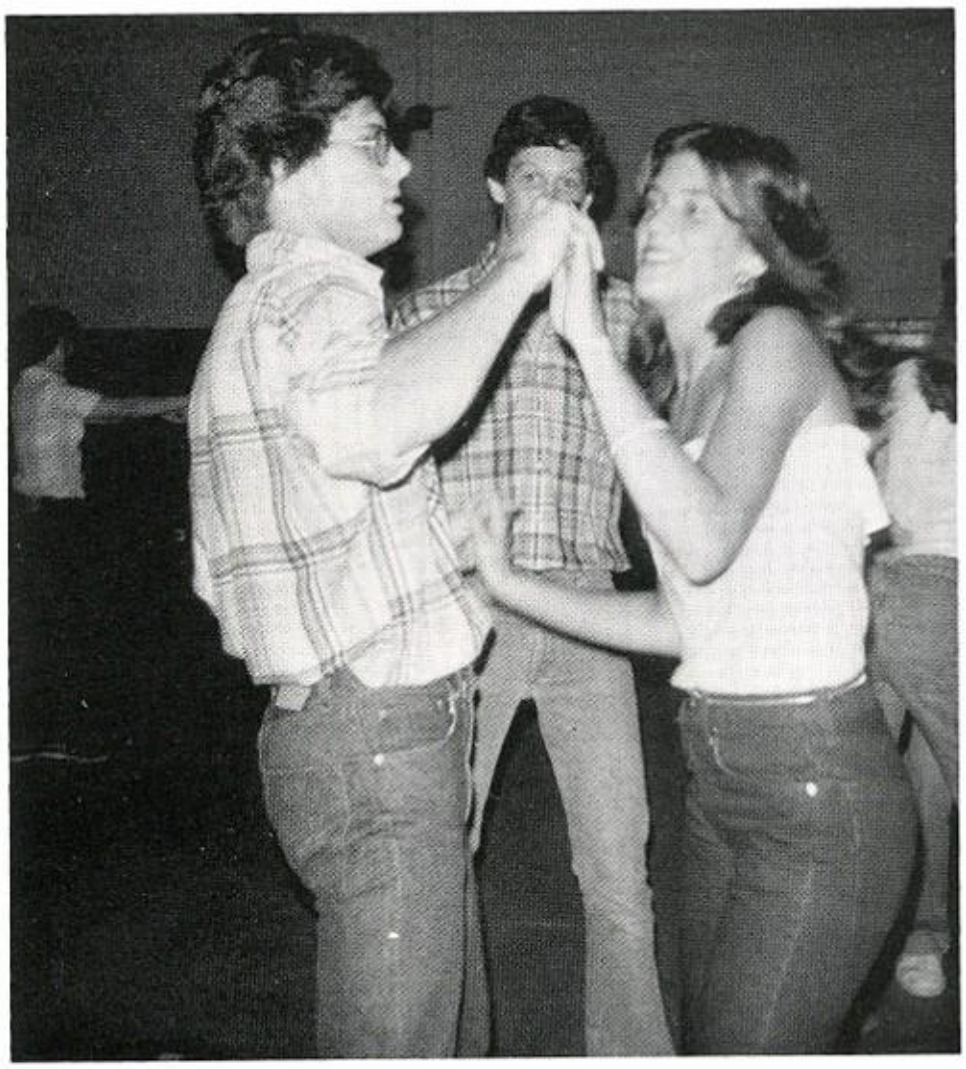
February's Valentines

With February came Valentine's Day, and with Valentine's Day came the Miss Sweetheart Contest. The occasion began with a tea for the girls held at Mrs. Vance Watt's home. There the girls were interviewed by the judges. After the tea, flustered hair rolling, skirt hemming, and nervous chatters preceded the evening's event. Judged on poise and beauty, the five finalists were asked selected questions, and the final decision was made.

Miss Sweetheart 1978 — Lib Wight, first runner-up — Linda Luckie, second runner-up — Elizabeth McKinnon, third runner-up — Jennifer Tanner. Contestants: Julia Arwood, Stephanie Bentley, Tracy Bridges, Rebecca Chubb, Jeanne Dillinger, Kelly Flynn, Marge Hackney, Alice Hershey, Beth Malone, Lois Manny, Caren McKenzie, Lisa Roberts, Martha Scott, Jeanne Singletary, Elizabeth Varnedoe, and Laurie Willis.

Spring

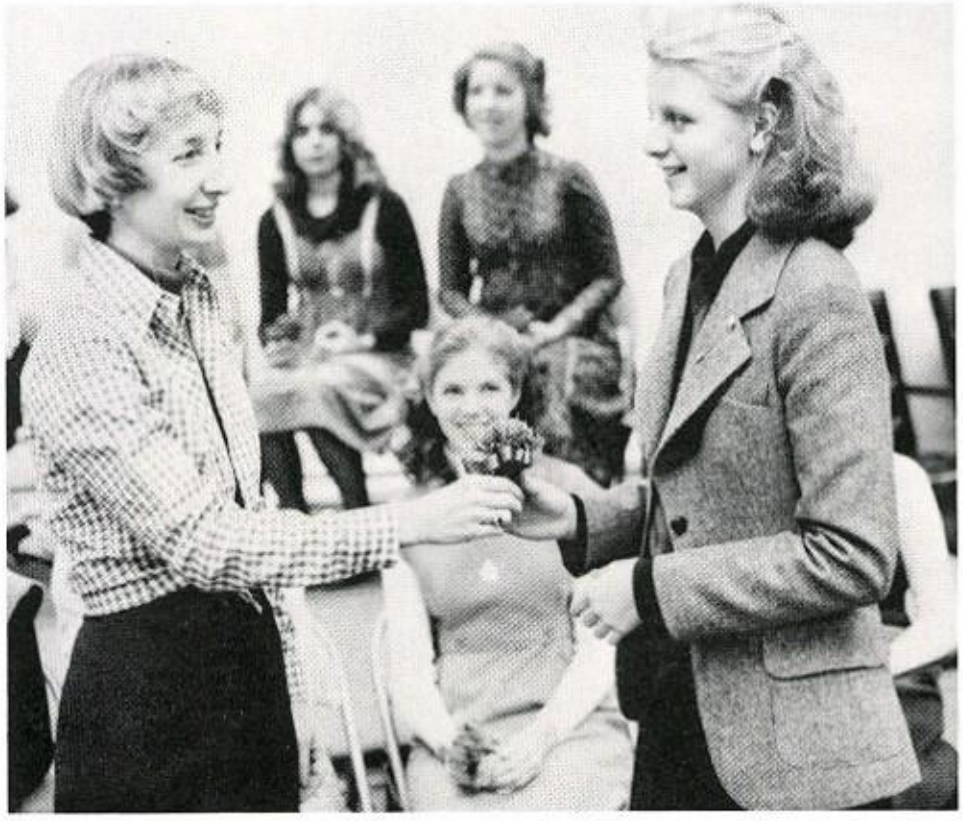
Fever

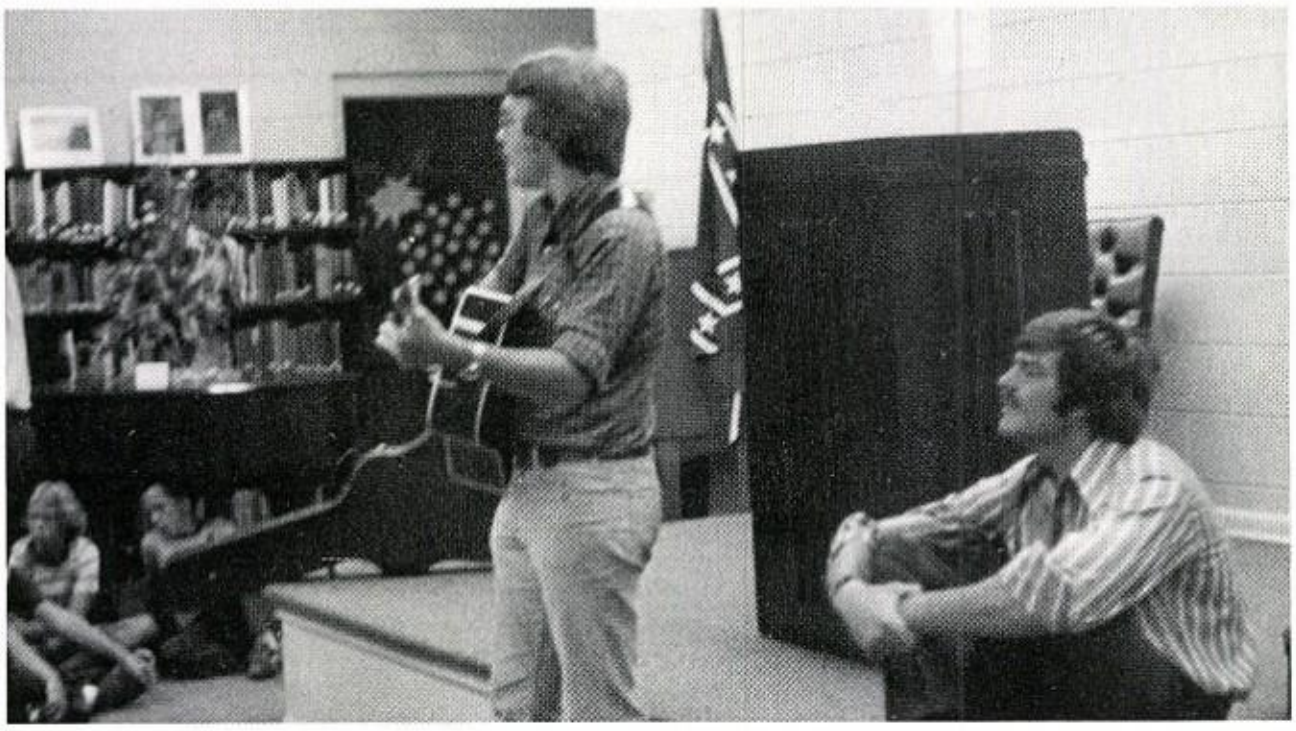


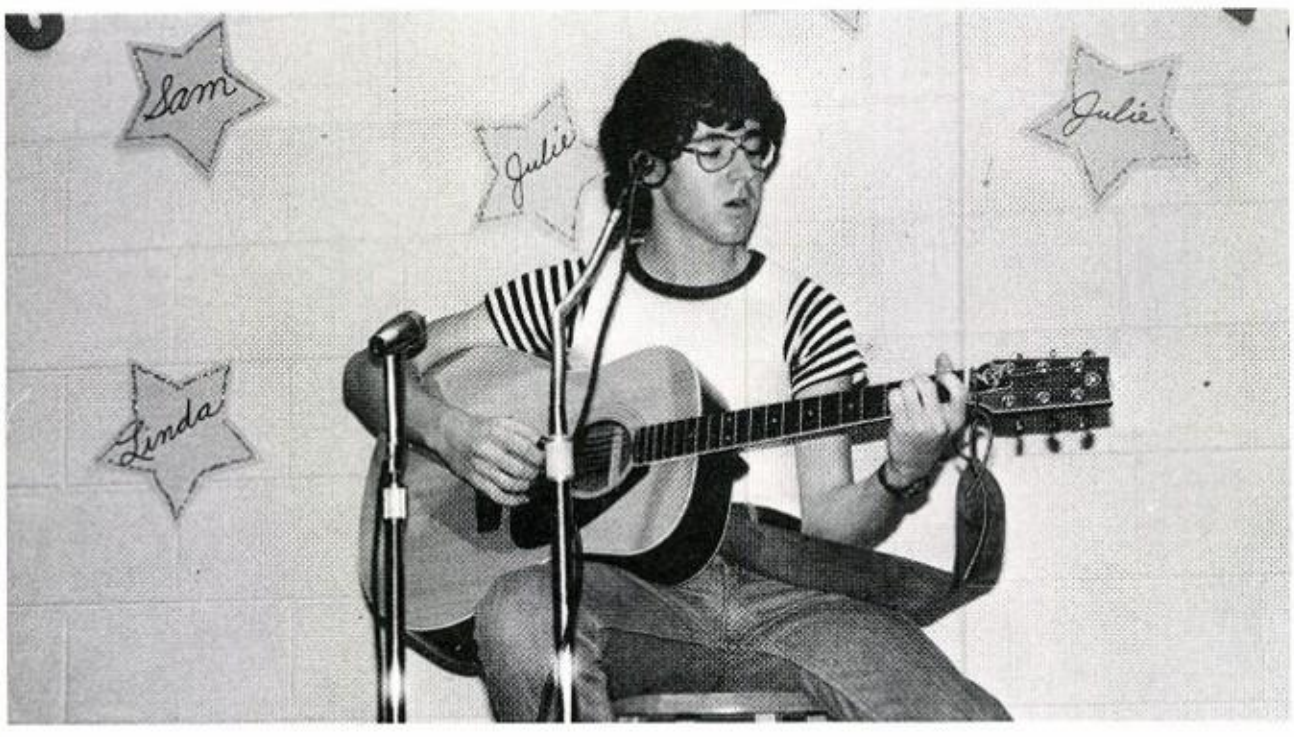
Spring fever hit Brookwood extremely early this year, the students were constantly found lounging in the sun or carelessly asleep under the campus trees. But as many slept away the spring, classes were diligently at work. The tenth grade sponsored a hot Disco Dance with a live disc jockey from WPAX. While on the cooler side, they held a carwash. Various programs were given for the students' enjoyment. They ranged from Brookwood's own talent show to an out-of-town dance performance. No matter what the occasion the students enjoyed themselves.

New Addition:

Wednesday Assembly







A new addition this year to the Brookwood agenda was Wednesday assemblies. Alternating clubs and classes presented the programs. A variety of speakers and guests gave the students new and different entertainment, but most of all the assemblies provided a chance for a whole school get-together every Wednesday.

Elementary Year Filled With Exciting Events

From Colonial scenes to a tribute to spring, the elementary plays captured the imagination of their audiences of students and parents. The entire elementary school surprised Miss Faye Vickers with a special assembly and a wedding gift, expressing their mixed emotions of joy and sadness at her departure. Doris Dillard and Bill Wimberly shared the sixth grade Good Citizenship trophies, and eager young Pre-First graduates began their journey into "real" school.

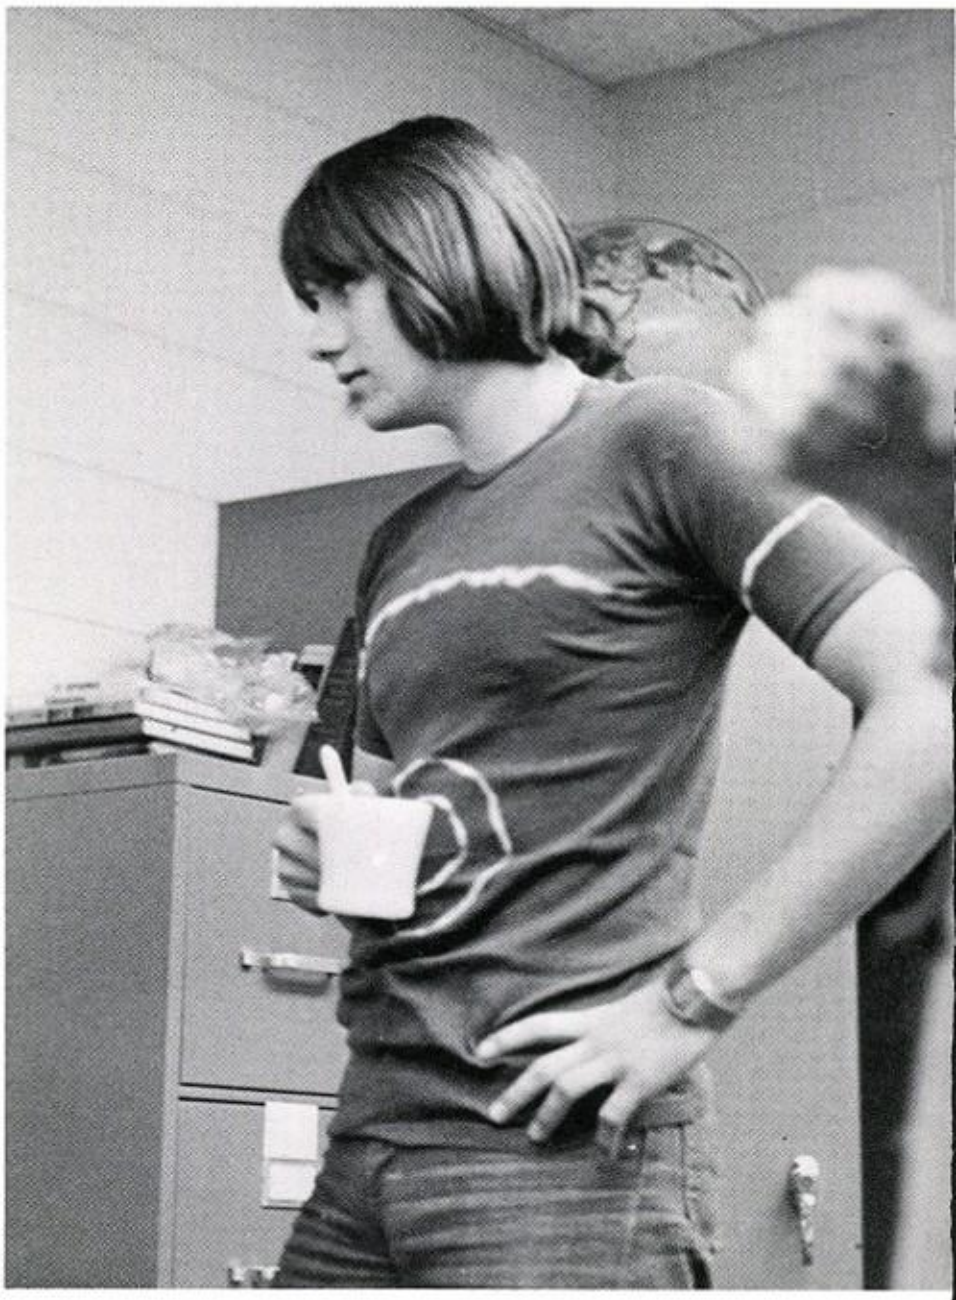
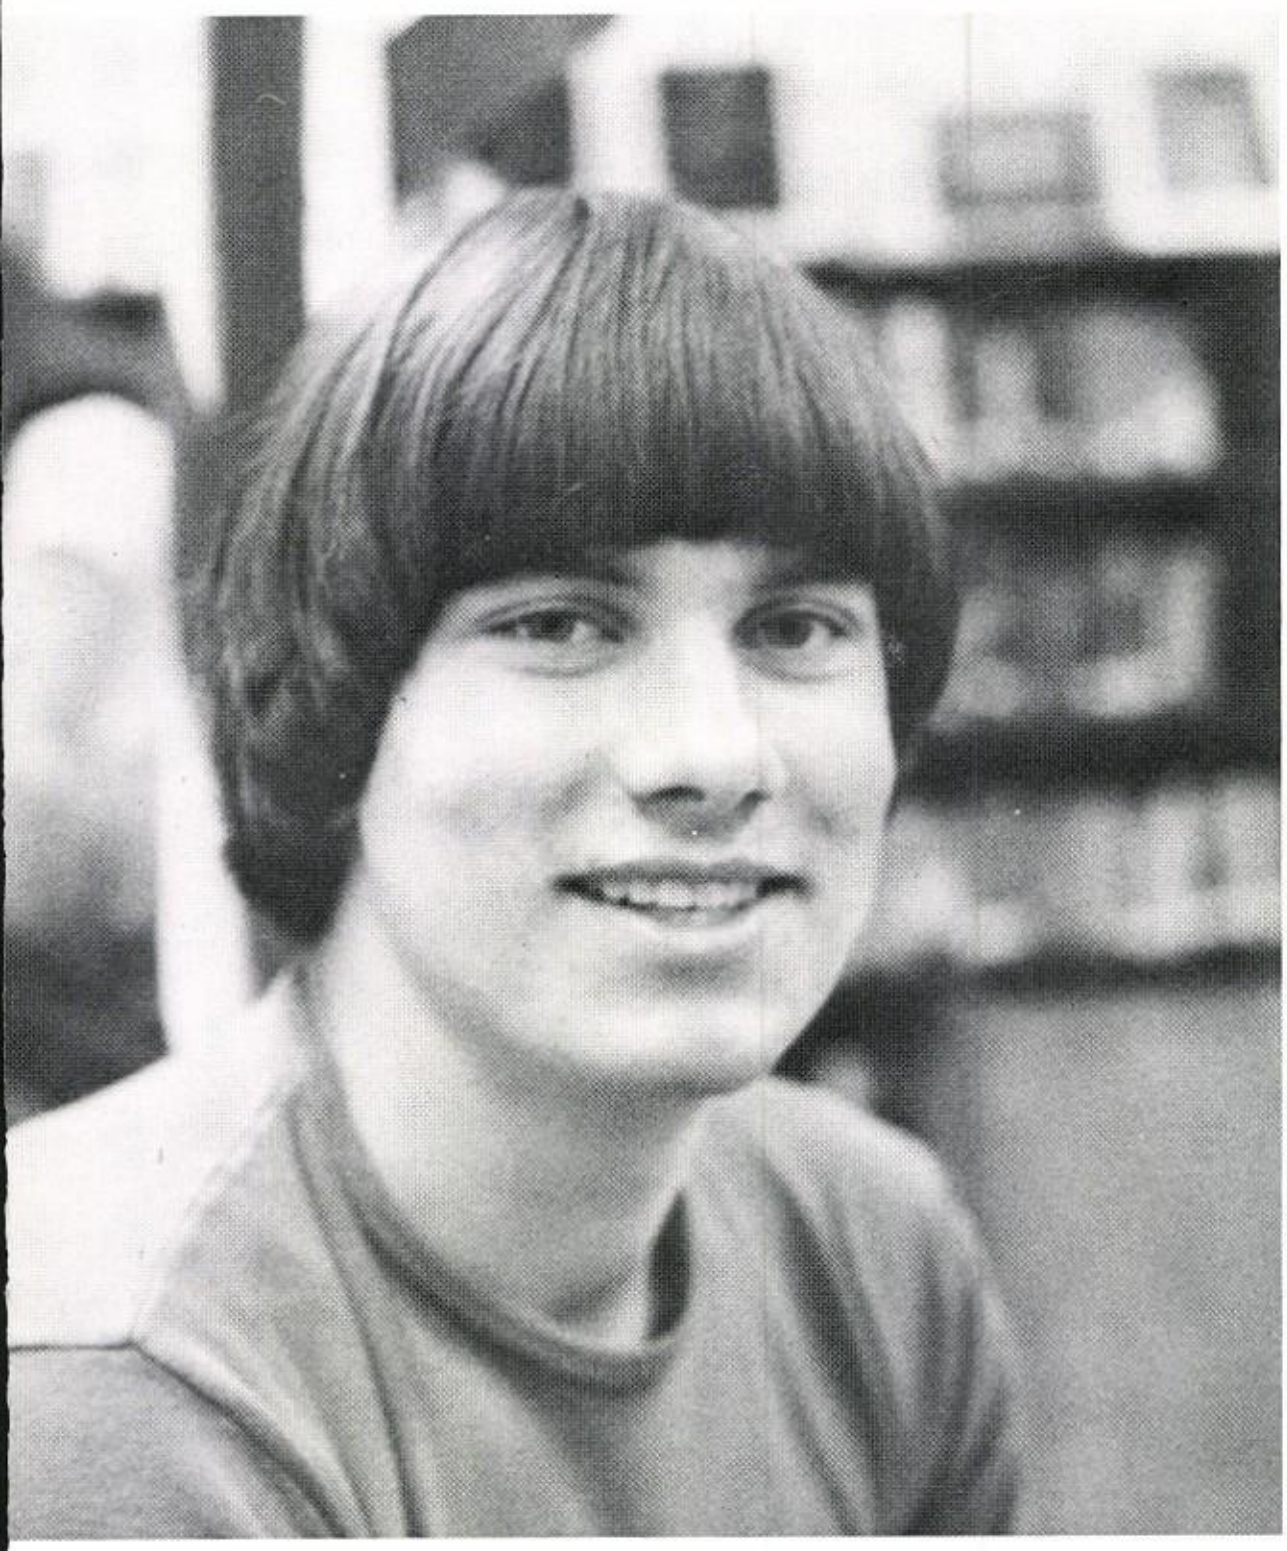
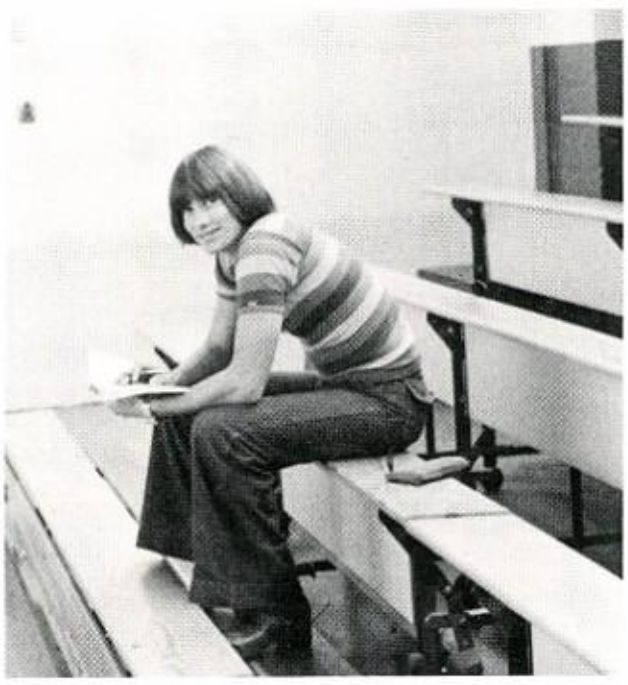
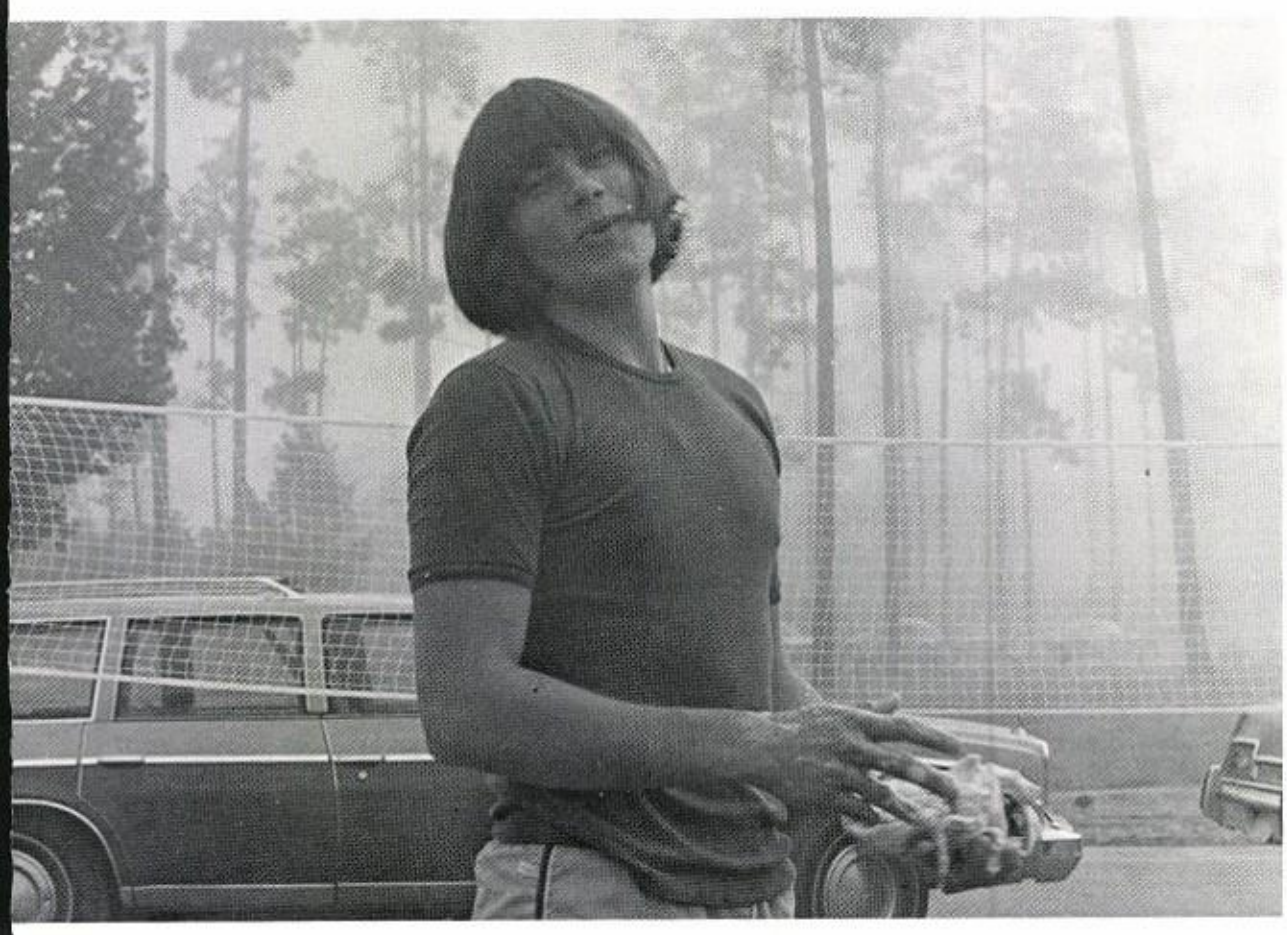
Claus M-A-C-K-E-P-R-A-N-G



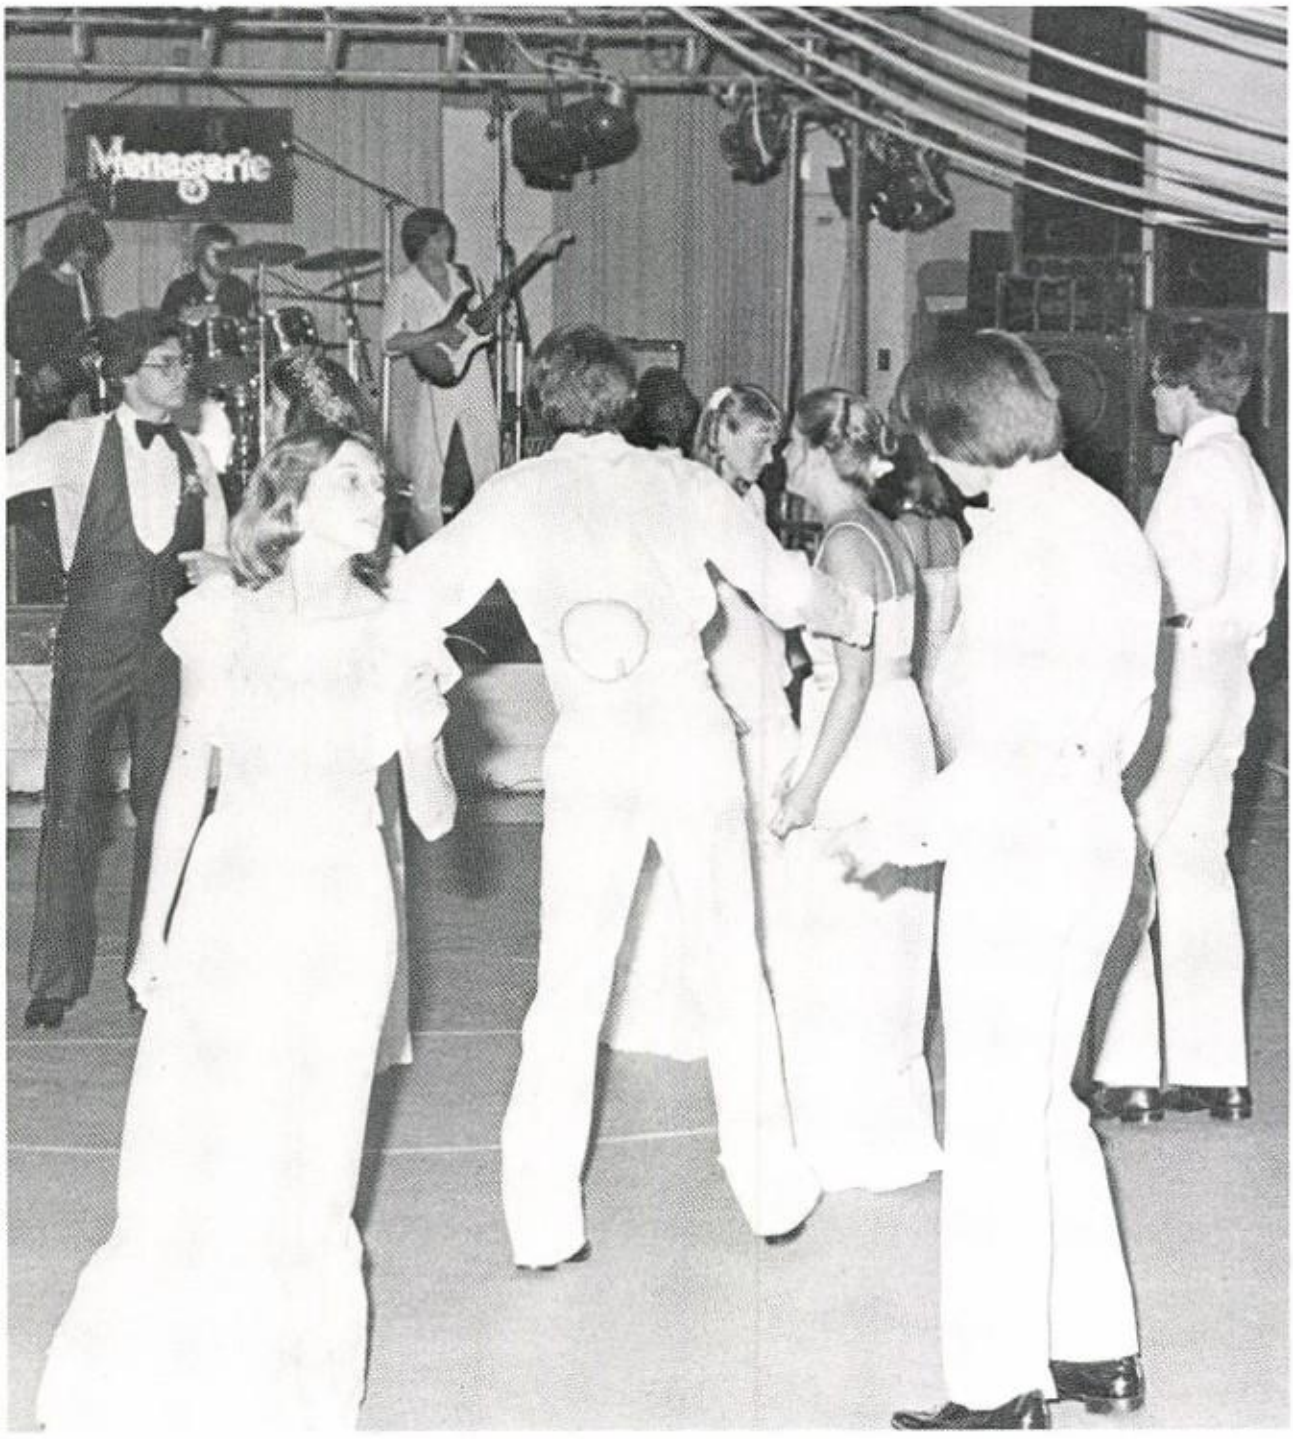


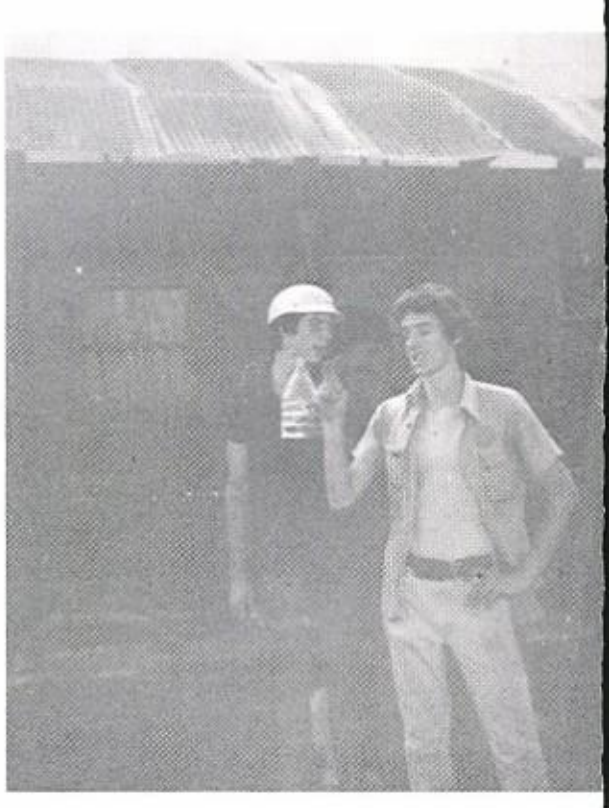
Claus M-A-C-K-E-P-R-A-N-G! What a remarkable name for a remarkable guy! A seemingly shy introvert flew over to us from Denmark. For quite awhile Claus stayed solely to himself. If only then we would have known this Dane would get the better of us Americans, we might have kept him quiet. A born jokester, Claus has won and warmed the hearts of all of us, with his gay kidding and sarcasm. His speech at the AFS banquet showed his quick adaptation to the English language. We shall be very sorry to lose a friend and student such as Claus. We can only hope that we have provided him some fabulous and meaningful memories of America to carry with him.



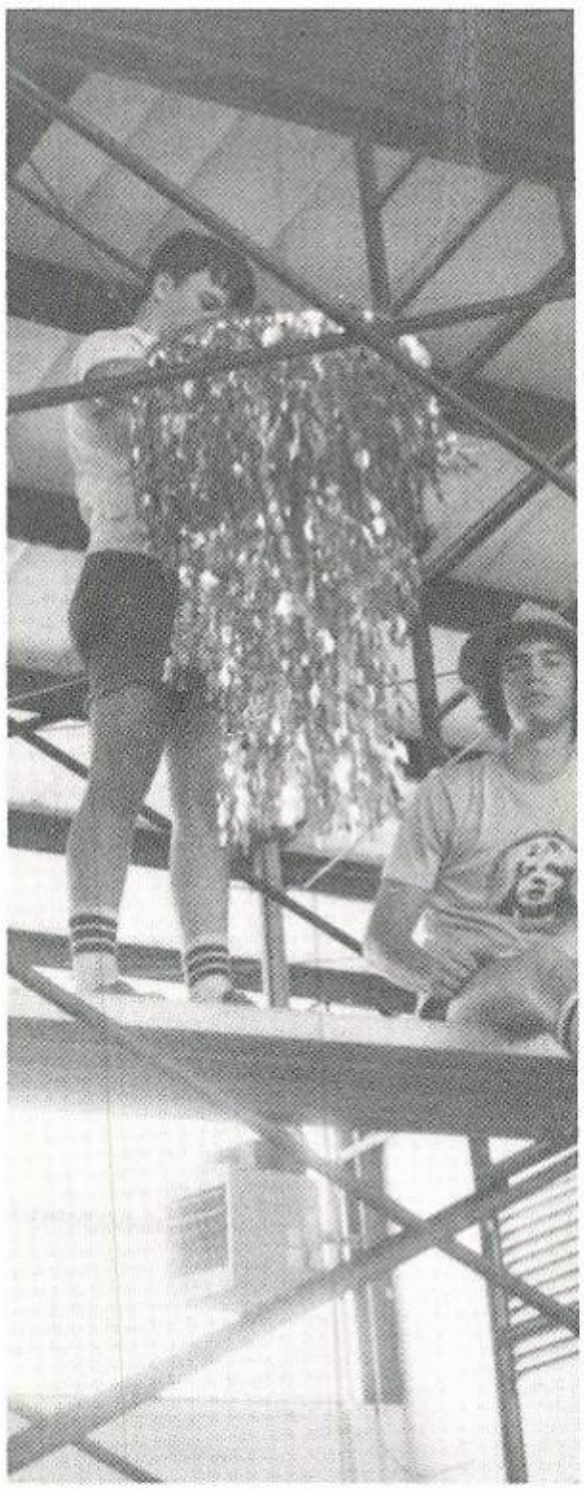


Seniors Treated to





Old South Prom



Amid the rustle of petticoats and antibellum gowns, the Juniors and Seniors danced their way into the Old South. The theme "Sweet Home Alabama" was carried out to the finest detail with life-like scenes from Uncle Remus's Cabin to Tara Southern Mansion. Many guests strolled together in the vast gardens while others tirelessly scorched the dance floor. To top off the occasion, the Juniors paid tribute to the Seniors with a hilarious slide show.

Goes Abroad

A number of our own Brookwood students canvassed the streets of London, Paris, Salzburg, Florence, and Madrid during last summer's vacation. Amidst this dreamlike fantasy the kids explored Buckingham Palace to the Austrian mountains. Our Brookwood travelers, having made new friends and seen fantastic sights, were all ready to journey again to Europe.

Highest Honors and Honorary Organizations

Headmaster's Award: This is the highest award presented to a senior who has proven to be the best all around. This person will be remembered as having contributed the most to all areas of school life. The receiver of this award is voted on by the faculty on the basis of his outstanding accomplishments in school activities, service to the school, and leadership abilities. This award goes to a student who has been at Brookwood for at least three full school years.
Patricia James Bullock Memorial Service Award: This highest award based on service is presented to a senior for his contributions during his high school years. Having attended Brookwood for at least two full school years, the student is given this award to honor his unselfish and unpaid service to the school.
National Honor Society: The Louise Jeanes Hines Chapter of the National Honor Society consists of juniors and seniors who have cumulative averages of 3.4 and above. These members are chosen on the basis of character, leadership, and service. The tapping into the society of the new members occurs in early spring. NHS members are recognized at graduation by gold mortarboard tassels.
Honor Council: This student judiciary organization consists of seven elected students who uphold the rules of the Honor Code. This group enforces the by-laws of the code, which make lying, stealing, and cheating violations of student honor. The Honor Council hears cases of code infractions and recommends penalties to the administration. The student body elects seven new members each spring.
Who's Who in Foreign Language: This honorary organization recognizes outstanding foreign language students.

As the senior class moves on from graduation night at Brookwood, the memories that remain in each student's mind are as varied as the students themselves. The yearbook serves as an incomplete—but honest—effort to capture the spirit and the mood of our high school years. We all shelter personal feelings that perhaps don't show all sides of an experience, but this is only human. We can only hope that the impressions we have retained from our alma mater have been good ones, and that their effects on our lives have been favorable. It is the "Warrior" staff's wish that you have more Fridays than Mondays, more victories than defeats, and more reasons to celebrate than reasons to cry.

Dear Robert,

Remember Walt Disney World. That was really fun. And thanks for saving me at Phil's "swimming" party. My shoes will never be the same. Thanks for all the fun and I hope you're living it up at Emory.- ~~Hotty~~ Atlanta. I know you're having fun.

Love ya.

Dear Robert,

Things such as this are difficult to do because putting words to feelings always leaves out something important. The seniors of '78 were all dear to me, but some were truly special. Thanks for being more than just a student. I'll always love you as a special friend who was kind and loving towards me even when times were tough. I wish you happiness and love in your life.

Don't forget to come back to see me often -

Love,
Mrs. Atwell
